Introduction

Course Description

English Time is a six-level communicative course intended for elementary school students studying English for the first time. It was designed specifically for children studying in an English as a Foreign Language (EFL) context who do not generally hear English spoken outside the classroom. The syllabus progresses at a steady pace, offering students opportunities to practice each new language item in a variety of contexts. The aim of the series is to develop students' speaking, listening, reading, and writing skills through activities that reward their curiosity and appeal to their sense of fun. Three recurring characters, Ted, Annie, and Digger the dog, maintain student interest and involvement throughout the course.

The English Time series is preceded by a two-level introductory series, Magic Time. These two courses can be used separately or as one complete eight-level course. The Magic Time syllabus provides a solid foundation of communicative language on which the syllabus of English Time is built.

The components of each level of English Time are: Student Book with Student Audio CD, Wall Charts, Workbook, Workbook with Online Practice, Class Audio CD, Teacher's Book with a Test Center CD-ROM and Online Practice, and iTools.

Components

The Student Books

The Student Books feature beautiful full-color illustrations, and a clear, simple design. The illustrations draw students into the pages to explore and experience the language, enhancing student interest and motivation. English Time Levels 1–4 contain twelve 4-page units and four 2-page reviews. Each unit is built around a theme, such as Pets or Nature, to provide a real-life context to the language. Each page of a unit practices a single language function in order to keep the focus of the page clear. The short units help students progress rapidly, thus building their confidence and motivation. After every three units, the 2-page review recycles previously learned language in a new, meaningful context.

Each Student Book ends with an alphabetical My Picture Dictionary, where students write vocabulary words as they learn them. At the back of the Student Books there are also Checklists (one for every three units). These give students an opportunity to check what they know, thus building their confidence and allowing parents to follow their child's progress in English.

The Student Audio CDs

The Student Audio CDs feature all Student Book vocabulary, grammar patterns, songs, chants, and phonics sounds and words. The sections included on the Student Audio CD are easily identified in the Student Book by a yellow icon.

The Workbooks

There are two versions of the Workbooks: a stand-alone version and a version with access to Online Practice. The Workbooks are a natural extension of the Student Books, providing additional reading and writing practice for each lesson. The Workbooks offer an excellent opportunity for teachers to assess student comprehension and language retention.

The Teacher's Books

The Teacher's Books provide clear step-by-step lesson plans to teach, practice, and review the language presented in the Student Books. Many of the suggested games and activities include different strategies for large and small classes. They also provide individual, pair, and group tasks. The Teacher's Books also feature the audioscript and answers. An access code for Online Practice is printed at the back of the Teacher's Book. Included in each Teacher's Book are a special Teacher Resource Guide; Workbook instructions and answers; photocopiable Worksheets; individual unit, midterm, and final Tests; and a Games and Activities section. The Teacher Resource Guide presents teaching and class management tips for teachers of English to children. The photocopiable Worksheets allow for additional practice of language presented in the Student Books. The Tests allow teachers and parents to assess students' level of comprehension and their progress. The Games section provides a multitude of fun game ideas to enhance any lesson. Also provided are instructions on how to introduce and check the Workbook activities.

The Test Centers

The English Time Test Centers give you all the resources you need to evaluate your students' progress and to help them prepare for standardized tests of English such as the Cambridge Young Learners examinations.

The Test Centers contain the following tests, all in ready-to-print and editable formats, with instructions, audio files, and answer keys:

Placement Tests: These tests are a quick and accurate tool to help you determine the English level of new students. Placement Test A matches the syllabus of English Time Levels 1 to 3. Placement Test B matches the syllabus of English Time Levels 4 to 6.

Achievement Tests: A unit test after each unit, a midterm test, and a final test help you assess your students' mastery of the vocabulary, grammar, and conversational language of the syllabus. All the material for the Achievement Tests is also printed in the Teacher's Book (pages 137–164).

Cambridge Young Learners' practice tests: These tests provide specific practice in the style of the Cambridge Young Learners examinations, enabling you to choose task types and create practice materials for these tests. Even if you are not preparing your students for these examinations, you can still use the tasks to create extra practice, review tests, or worksheets.

Online Practice

Access codes included with the Teacher's Book and the Workbook with Online Practice:

- Interactive activities for every lesson
- Automatic scoring and gradebook
- www.etonlinepractice.com

The Class Audio CDs

The Class Audio CDs feature all Student Book conversations, vocabulary, patterns, songs, chants, and phonics sounds and words. Additional exercises on each CD provide valuable listening practice.

The Wall Charts

The Wall Charts feature enlarged versions of each Conversation Time page.

iTools

Oxford iTools is software that allows you to present and manipulate course content: pages from one or multiple books, audio, picture cards and other resources in an interactive way. iTools is designed to be projected in class. To take full advantage of its rich interactive content, it should be used on an interactive whiteboard, but may also be used with the computer connected to a screen or a data projector.

Course Philosophy

English Time is based on the premise that children learn best when their natural curiosity and sense of fun are engaged, and when new language is introduced in small, manageable amounts. English Time introduces all language in a spiraling syllabus that builds on and reinforces previously learned language. Thus, at each new level students maintain and add to the language they know.

The unit topics and situations are both familiar and of universal appeal to children. Students immediately relate to these situations, which results in greater language production and retention.

English Time emphasizes student-centered learning, as it creates opportunities for students to produce language in a manner resembling "real-life" communication. For this purpose, practice and review activities in English Time systematically involve pair and group work.

The theory of multiple intelligences suggests that in any language class there are students with different learning styles (see Multiple Intelligences, Teacher Resource Guide, page 21). By engaging students orally, visually, logically, kinesthetically, and musically, English Time activities maximize students' participation during each lesson.

The English Time lesson plans do not follow one particular teaching methodology. Instead, a variety of different, successful methodologies are employed to provide exciting, stimulating lessons. Information gap activities, role-play, survey, and interviews are employed to create a real need for communication and appeal to as many students as possible. Students hear the target language before they produce it (receptive exposure before production). Listening is emphasized so that students are exposed to correct pronunciation and intonation.

Lesson Planning

Thorough planning and preparation are crucial to the success of any lesson. A well-prepared lesson includes more activities than may seem necessary. Preparation of multiple activities allows teachers to maintain the pace of the lesson, abandon activities that are not working, and keep the focus on students and their learning.

A sound lesson plan includes activities to review previously learned language, introduce new language, and practice all language in an organised, educationally sound, and enjoyable manner. English Time Teacher's Books provide a detailed, step-by-step lesson plan for each Student Book page. Teachers are encouraged to modify these lesson plans to meet their individual needs.

English Time Lesson Plans

1 Warm-Up and Review

Each lesson plan begins with an activity which reviews the language practiced in the previous lesson. This helps students to both recall the language and "switch" to English-speaking mode. In some lessons, a second review activity focuses on language related to the target vocabulary or grammar patterns.

2 Introduce the Target Language

New language is introduced before students open their Student Books so that they focus on the meaningful demonstration of the language. Step-by-step suggestions show how to introduce the target language using real objects (realia), drawings, charts, and/or gestures.

3 Practice the Target Language

Students open their Student Books at this stage. Each Student Book page provides exercises to practice the language. The Teacher's Book provides detailed instructions on how to fully exploit each Student Book page. The audioscript, answer keys, and ideas on how to check exercises are provided where appropriate.

4 Games and Activities

All lessons include games and activities that offer students further practice with the target language. Activities frequently combine previously learned language with the target language, so that students are continually building on what they have learned. Teachers can choose the games and activities that are appropriate to their needs. Optional photocopiable Worksheets at the back of the Teacher's Books provide extra grammar and phonics practice.

5 Finish the Lesson

Each lesson plan concludes with a fun activity that reviews the new language, gives the lesson a feeling of closure, and ends the class on a positive note.

Conversation Time Sample Page and Lesson Plan

8 At the Safari Park
Conversation Time

A. Listen and repeat. B. Listen and point to the speakers.

C. Role-play the conversation with two other students.

D. Review. Listen and repeat.

I'm going to take a picture.
Be very careful!
Oh, no!
I told you to be careful.

There's a monkey on the car! Unit 8 37

Speakers of the conversation are featured in context.

Three optional extra vocabulary items related to the unit theme are located within the Conversation Time scene.

Worm World reviews conversations and grammar from previous units in a humorous way.

Warm-Up and Review

- Do an activity to review the phonics sounds learned in the previous lesson. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Check the Phonics Time Workbook page that students did in class or for homework. Answer keys are provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

Introduce the Conversation

- Clarify the meaning of new words or phrases in the conversation through drawings, actions, or pictures. Students retain language better if they understand the meaning. Detailed examples are provided in each lesson plan.
- Model the conversation in such a way that students can see it presented in a natural way. To do this, bring students (one student for each speaker in the conversation) to the front of the classroom and have them face each other. Stand behind each student and model his/her line(s) of the conversation, using natural facial expressions and body language. In this way, students know who says which line of the conversation. Each lesson plan contains examples of appropriate body language and facial expressions for each line of the conversation.
- Divide the class into groups (one group for each speaker in the conversation). Model each line of the conversation again. Group A repeats the first line of the conversation, Group B repeats line two, and so on. Groups then change roles and repeat the conversation until each group has practiced each role. If students need additional support, model the conversation using the visual prompts from the first bullet point.

- Students are now ready to say the conversation on their own, without any modeling. Groups say the appropriate lines of the conversation. They then change roles and say the conversation again. Continue until each group has taken on each role. Prompt when necessary.

OPTIONAL SUBSTITUTION Introduce other vocabulary that can be substituted into the conversation, and practice the conversation with this new vocabulary. Suggested substitutions are provided where appropriate.

Talk About the Picture

- Students open their Student Books for the first time at this point.
- Describe what is happening in the large scene in order to recycle language and bring the picture to life. It is not important that students understand each word as this is a receptive exercise focusing on exposure to English and recycling previous language items in a new context. A short reading is suggested in each lesson plan. When reading a word in bold type, point to its picture in the scene. When reading an italicized word, pantomime it. This conveys the meaning of words students have not heard before. Alternatively, use a Wall Chart instead of a Student Book to describe the people and actions in the picture.
- Ask questions about the large scene in order to elicit language and familiarize students further with the picture. Encourage students to answer using words, phrases, or simple sentences. Prompt if necessary. Suggested questions are provided in each lesson plan.

Practice the Conversation

A. Listen and repeat.

- Play the first version of the recording. This version is spoken at slightly slower than natural speed and has no sound effects so that students can focus on the pronunciation of the words and the new language. Students listen to the conversation and repeat.

B. Listen and point to the speakers.

- Play the second version of the conversation. This version is dramatized, spoken at natural speed, and has sound effects so that students can hear the language as spoken in real life. This time students look at the scenes as they listen, finding and pointing to the speaker of each line of conversation. Play the recording as many times as necessary for students to find and point to the speakers.

C. Role-play the conversation with a partner.

- Students produce the conversation by choosing a partner, then role-playing the conversation, using the body language and facial expressions from Introduce the Conversation. They then change roles and role-play the conversation again.
- If a conversation has more than two speakers, divide students into groups of the same number of students as there are speakers in the conversation. These groups then role-play the conversation. Students in each group continue until each student has taken on each role.

D. Review. Listen and repeat.

- Focus students' attention on the worms at the bottom of the page. Volunteers try to read the worms' speech bubbles or guess what the worms are saying. Prompt if necessary in order to elicit the conversation before playing the recording. Play the recording. Students listen and repeat, pointing to each speech bubble. Students can then choose a partner and role-play the conversation, using appropriate body language and facial expressions.

What Did Digger Find?

- Digger the dog has found something in each unit – either on the Conversation Time page or on the Word Time page. Students try to be the first to determine what Digger found, raise their hands, and say what the object Digger has found is. Encourage students to use complete sentences when possible. An answer key is provided in each lesson plan.

Games and Activities

- In order to practice and internalize the new conversation, students practice it through various games and activities.

Finish the Lesson

- Finish the lesson with a quick game or activity to further practice the conversation. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Explain and assign the Conversation Time Workbook page to be done in class or for homework. It is important that students understand the directions for each activity so that they can concentrate on language, not on trying to figure out what to do. An answer key is provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

Word Time Sample Page and Lesson Plan

• Eight or more new vocabulary words are introduced per unit.

• Students review the target vocabulary, as well as previously learned conversations and patterns, by listening to the recording, then finding and pointing to the speakers.

• My Picture Dictionary at the back of the Student Book gives students the opportunity to create their own picture dictionary.

• All new vocabulary items are featured in context for students to find in the large scene.

Warm-Up and Review

- Do an activity to review the conversation learned in the previous lesson. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Check the Conversation Time Workbook page that students did in class or for homework. Answer keys are provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

Introduce the Words

- Introduce each vocabulary item in such a way that students both hear and understand its meaning. Alternate methods for introducing the words are provided where appropriate.

Talk About the Picture

- Students open their Student Books for the first time at this point. They look at the large scene and name anything they can.
- As in Conversation Time, talk about what is happening in the large scene in order to recycle language and bring the picture to life. It is not important that students understand each word as this is a receptive exercise focusing on exposure to English and recycling previous language items in a new context. A short reading is suggested in each lesson plan. When reading a word in bold type, point to its picture in the scene. When reading an italicized word, pantomime it. This conveys the meaning of words students have not heard before.
- Ask questions about the large scene in order to elicit language and familiarize students further with the picture. Encourage students to answer using words, phrases, or simple sentences. Prompt if necessary. Suggested questions are provided in each lesson plan.

Practice the Words

A. Listen and repeat. 🎧

- Focus students' attention on the vocabulary box at the top of the page. Play the recording. Students listen to the vocabulary items and repeat.
- For added challenge, say the words in random order. Students listen and point to the words in the vocabulary box.

B. Point and say the words.

- Individually, students point to and name each of the target vocabulary items in the large scene in any order they wish.
- Alternatively, divide the class into pairs. Students in each pair take turns pointing to and naming each of the target vocabulary items.

C. Listen and point. 🎧

- Focus students' attention on the large scene. Play the recording. Students listen to the sound effects and words. As they hear a vocabulary item named, they find and point to the corresponding item in the large scene. As they hear a sentence or conversation, they find and point to the speaker(s). Play the recording as many times as necessary for students to complete the task.

D. Write the words. (See pages 70–74.)

- Students turn to My Picture Dictionary at the back of the Student Book. They look through the alphabetical Picture Dictionary to find the picture of each vocabulary item, then write the word next to it.

What Did Digger Find?

- Digger the dog has found something in each unit – either on the Conversation Time page or on the Word Time page. Students try to be the first to determine what Digger found, raise their hands, and say what the object Digger has found is. Encourage students to use complete sentences when possible. Answers are provided in each lesson plan.

Extra Vocabulary

- Each Word Time lesson includes three to four optional extra vocabulary items, which are illustrated on that unit's Conversation Time page. Focus students' attention on that unit's Conversation Time page. Write the extra vocabulary items listed in each lesson plan on the board and read them. For meaning, draw simple pictures of the items on the board, name them in the students' native language, or have students look up the words in their dictionaries. Read the words again, and have students repeat. Students then find, point to, and name the items in the large scene. These extra words may be used in any of the suggested games and activities.

Games and Activities

- In order to practice and internalize the new vocabulary, students practice it through various games and activities.

Finish the Lesson

- Finish the lesson with a quick game or activity to further practice the vocabulary. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Explain and assign the Word Time Workbook page to be done in class or for homework. It is important that students know what to do for each activity so that they can concentrate on the language, and not on trying to figure out the activity. An answer key is provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

Practice Time Sample Page and Lesson Plan

Practice Time

A. Listen and repeat. 17

Which one is the tallest? The giraffe is the tallest.

tall → tallest short → shortest fat → fattest thin → thinnest fast → fastest slow → slowest

B. Listen and repeat. Then practice with a partner.

1. short? chimpanzee

2. tall? giraffe

3. fat? elephant

4. slow? turtle

5. fast? cheetah

6. thin? snake

C. Look at page 38. Point to the picture and practice with a partner.

D. SONG Listen and sing along. 17
(See "Which One Is the Tallest?" on page 68.)

Which one is the tallest? Unit 8 39

New grammar patterns are presented as complete sentences.

Six to eight substitution exercises serve as controlled practice for the target patterns.

Simple situational art for each substitution exercise helps to provide meaning.

Students look back to the Word Time page. Then, using that unit's vocabulary and grammar, they make sentences about various scenes on the page. This allows students to use the grammar patterns in a less controlled and more meaningful, natural context.

A grammar song or chant in each unit provides a fun review of the new grammar patterns.

Warm-Up and Review

- Do an activity to review the vocabulary learned in the previous lesson. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Check the Word Time Workbook page that students did in class or for homework. Answer keys are provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

Introduce the Patterns

- Pronoun Review. Ask students to repeat all of the following words and actions. Point to yourself and say I. Point to and look at students while saying You. Put your arms around a group of students and say We. Step away from and point to this same group of students, look at seated students, and say They. Point to a boy, look at seated students, and say he. Point to a girl, look at seated students, and say she. Point to a picture of a bird, look at seated students, and say it.
- Introduce the target patterns in a methodical step-by-step way. Once students are familiar with the patterns, provide an activity which allows students to use the patterns immediately. Detailed instructions are provided in each lesson plan. Explaining grammar rules is not recommended at this level as it could prove overwhelming.

Practice the Patterns

A. Listen and repeat. 17

- Write the text from the pattern box(es) on the board so all students can see it clearly. Play the recording, pointing to each word. Students listen.
- Play the recording again. Students listen, look at the pattern box(es) in their books, and repeat, pointing to each word.
- Students try to say the patterns on their own, while looking at the pattern box(es) in their books. Prompt if necessary, or play the tape again until students can do this with ease.
- Write any necessary explanations of contractions or verb tense changes on the board. Point to and read each word. Students repeat.

B. Listen and repeat. Then practice with a partner. 17

- Focus students' attention on the situational art exercises. Play the recording. Students listen to each pattern and repeat, pointing to the corresponding picture in their books.
- Play the recording again. Students listen to each pattern and repeat, pointing to each word in their books.
- Students are now ready to say the patterns on their own. Students form pairs and take turns saying all the patterns they have just practiced. They then change roles and do the same again.

C. Look at page X. Point to the picture and practice with a partner.

- For statement patterns: Students remain in pairs. Focus their attention on the Word Time large scene. They take turns pointing to the pictures and making sentences using the new patterns. An example is provided in each lesson plan.
- For question and answer patterns: Students remain in pairs. Focus their attention on the Word Time large scene. They take turns pointing to the pictures and asking and answering questions, using the new patterns and vocabulary items. An example is provided in each lesson plan.

D. Listen and sing along or chant. 🎧

- The lyrics for each song/chant are provided at the back of the Student Book. Students turn to that unit's song or chant. Focus their attention on the pictures. Using the pictures as cues, students try to guess or read some of the lyrics. Read the lyrics line by line and have students repeat. Play the recording. Students listen and follow in their books to familiarize themselves with the song or chant before singing it.
- Alternatively, write the lyrics on the board. Play the recording and point to each word. Students listen. Next, read the lyrics, pointing to each word, and have students repeat. Play the recording. Students listen and follow along in their books.
- Play the recording again. Students listen and sing along or chant, using their books for reference. Play the recording as many times as necessary for students to become sufficiently familiar with the song or chant.
- Play the karaoke version. Students sing or chant in groups with appropriate actions. A detailed activity is provided in each lesson plan.

Games and Activities

- In order to practice and internalize the new patterns, students practice them through various games and activities.

Extra Practice

- Explain and assign the Practice Time Worksheet. There is one Worksheet per Practice Time page to give students further practice with the target pattern. Worksheets can be done at home or in class. The extra tasks can also be given to more advanced students to keep them occupied while the teacher spends time with students who need more help. For Worksheets and detailed instructions, see Teacher's Book pages 110–136.

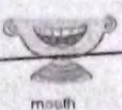

Finish the Lesson

- Finish the lesson with a quick game or activity to further practice the patterns. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Explain and assign the Practice Time Workbook page to be done in class or for homework. It is important that students know what to do for each activity so that they can concentrate on the language, and not have to spend time trying to figure out the activity. An answer key is provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

- She went to town in an evening gown.
- She met a brown trout and started to shout.
- "Please don't shout, little mouse," said the trout.

Unit 2: ow and ou

• One or two phonics sounds are presented per unit. The recording provides a model of correct pronunciation.

• For each sound, at least three example words are provided. The recording models the correct pronunciation of these words.

• Practice of the target sounds is provided through a variety of exercises that emphasize listening, reading, and writing.

Warm-Up and Review

- Do an activity which reviews the grammar patterns learned in the previous lesson. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Check the Practice Time Workbook page that students did in class or for homework. Answer keys are provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.
- As phonics needs constant reinforcement, do an activity which reviews previously learned sounds.
- An activity is provided in each lesson plan.

Introduce the Sounds

- Introduce each target phonics sound and word in a methodical, step-by-step way so that students both hear the target sounds and understand the meaning of each target word. To do this, say the first target sound and have students repeat. Do the same with the remaining sounds and words.
- Write each target word on the board in the following way: Write the target letter(s). Say its sound while pointing to the letter(s). Students repeat. Write the rest of the word on the board and say the target sound and then the rest of the word, pointing to the two parts of the word and then the whole word. Students repeat.

Practice the Sounds

A. Listen and repeat.

- Focus students' attention on the target letters, pictures, and words at the top of the page. Play the recording. Students listen and repeat, pointing to the pictures and words in their books.

B./C./D. (Additional activities).

- Each Phonics Time page has at least two additional exercises to reinforce the sounds. Detailed instructions and, where appropriate, audioscripts and answers, are provided for each exercise.

Games and Activities

- In order to practice and internalize the new language, students then practice the sounds through various games and activities. Games and activities are provided in each lesson plan.

Extra Practice

- Explain and assign the Phonics Time Worksheet. There is one Worksheet per Phonics Time page. Worksheets can be done at home or in class. They can also be given to stronger students to keep them occupied while the teacher spends time with students who need help. For Worksheets and detailed instructions, see Teacher's Book pages 110–136.

Finish the Lesson

- Finish the lesson with a quick game or activity to further practice the sounds. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Explain and assign the Phonics Time Workbook page to be done in class or for homework. It is very important that students know what to do for each activity so they can concentrate on language, and not have to spend time trying to figure out the activity. An answer key is provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

Assessment

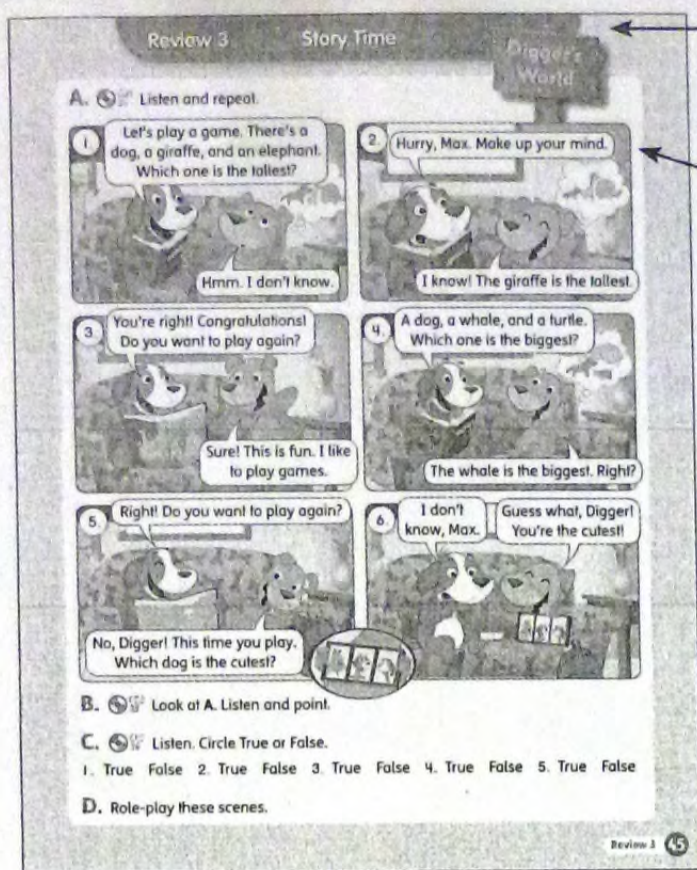

- Give the unit Test in order to check students' comprehension of the new language items. There is one Test per unit. An extensive midterm and final test are also provided. For Tests and detailed instructions, see Teacher's Book pages 137–164 and the Test Center CD-ROM.

Review: Story Time Sample Page and Lesson Plan

Story Time reviews Conversation Time, Word Time, and Practice Time language from the previous three units.

Digger's World is a cartoon-like story that recycles language in a natural, conversational situation. Each one is a complete story, and all four make up one long story.

Warm-Up

- Students do an activity that reviews the conversations, vocabulary items, and grammar patterns from the previous three units. At least one activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Check the Phonics Time Workbook page that students did in class or for homework. Answer keys are provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

Work with the Pictures

- Students open their Student Books to Digger's World. Focus their attention on the pictures and have them find and name any items or characters they see in the six scenes. These can be single words or phrases. Then describe what is happening in each scene in order to review the language and bring the pictures to life. Suggested sentences are provided in each lesson plan.

Work with the Text

- Focus students' attention on the speech bubbles. Students try to guess or read the text in the speech bubbles. Prompt when necessary.

Practice the Story

A. Listen and repeat.

- Play the first version of the story. This version is spoken at slightly slower than natural speed and has no sound effects so that students can focus on the pronunciation and language. Students follow along in their books, pointing to each speech bubble on the page.

B. Look at A. Listen and point.

- Play the second version of the story. This version is dramatized, spoken at natural speed, and has sound effects so students can hear the language as spoken in real life. Students listen and point to the scenes as they hear the corresponding sentences on the recording.

C. Role-play these scenes.

- Students should now be sufficiently familiar with the story to say it on their own, using their Student Books as necessary. Divide students into groups, and have students in each group role-play the scenes.

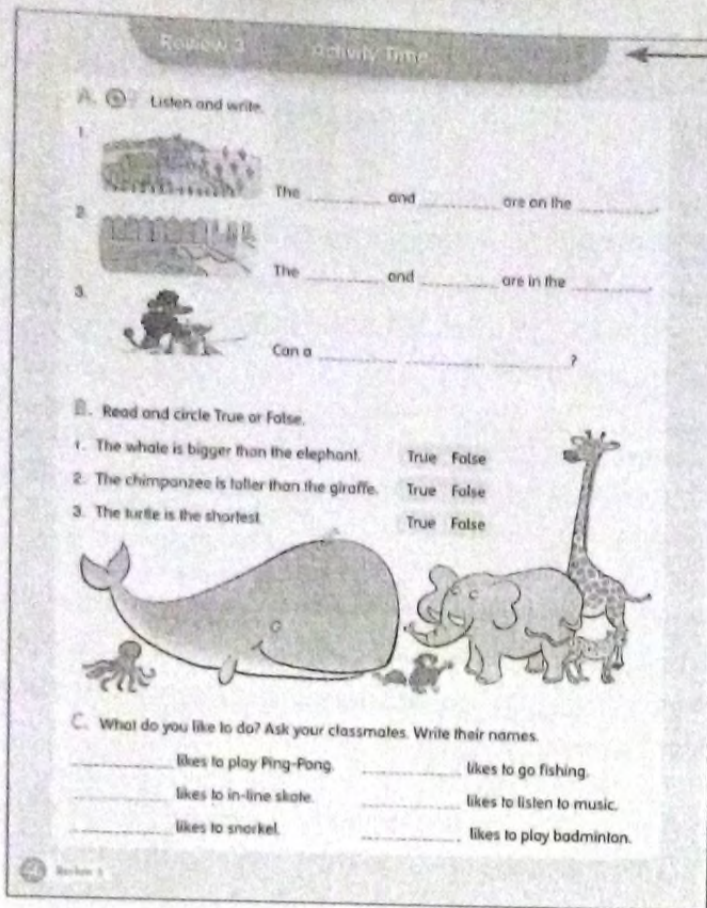

Games and Activities

- Students review the conversations, vocabulary, and grammar patterns further through games and activities. A project and a game or activity are provided in each lesson plan.

Finish the Lesson

- Finish the lesson with students doing an activity to further review the conversations, vocabulary, and grammar patterns. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Explain and assign the first page of the Workbook Review to be done in class or for homework. An answer key is provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

Review: Activity Time Sample Page and Lesson Plan

Activity Time reviews Conversation Time, Word Time, Practice Time, and/or Phonics Time language from the previous three units. Students review the language through a variety of exercises which emphasize listening, speaking, and writing.

Warm-Up

- Students do an activity to review the conversations, vocabulary items, patterns, and/or phonics sounds from the previous three units. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Check the first page of the Workbook Review that students did in class or for homework. Answer keys are provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

Review

- Each Activity Time page provides two to three exercises for students to review the conversations, vocabulary items, grammar patterns, and/or phonics. Detailed instructions and, where appropriate, audioscripts and answers, are provided for each exercise.

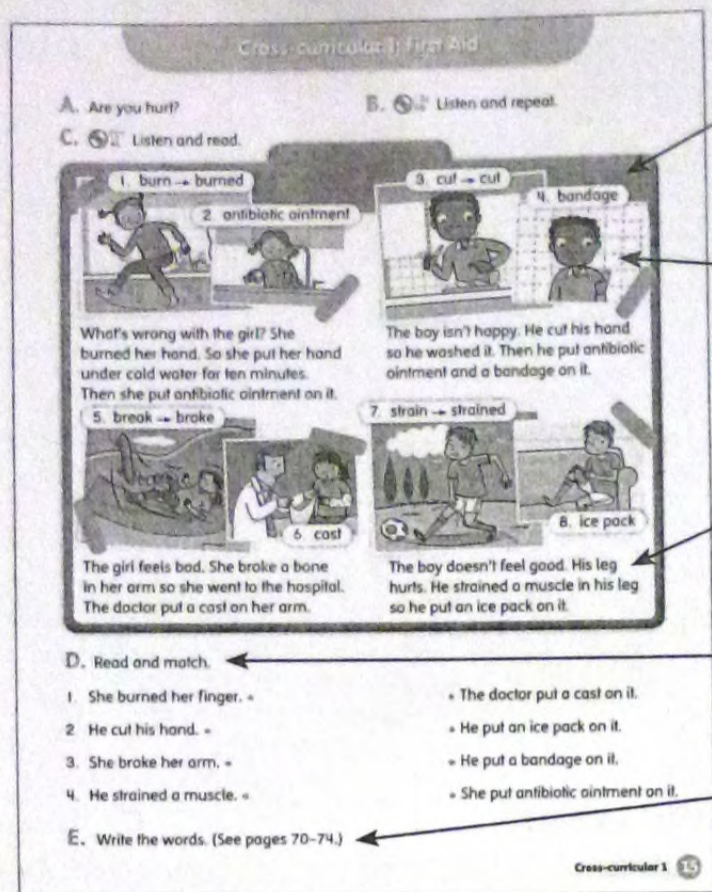

Games and Activities

- Students review the language through games and activities.

Finish the Lesson

- Explain and assign the checklist to be done in class or for homework. Students have now studied and reviewed three units' worth of language. They are ready to check what they know. The Checklists, found at the back of the Student Books, provide a permanent record for students, teachers, and parents of what students have understood and retained. There is one Checklist for every three units. Working individually or in pairs, students check off what they know in each Checklist.
- Explain and assign the second page of the Workbook Review to be done in class or for homework. An answer key is provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

Cross-curricular: Sample Page and Lesson Plan

Six to eight new vocabulary words are introduced within an age-appropriate American educational curriculum content. Students are learning content from subject areas such as science, math, social studies, art and music in addition to learning language skills.

The vocabulary is introduced in beautiful photographs or textbook-looking illustrations enhancing students' interest and motivation.

All new vocabulary items are featured in related reading text comprised of previously learned grammar patterns allowing students to focus on the vocabulary and content theme and offering extra review practice.

An engaging comprehension activity is provided to help test students' understanding of what they have learned.

My Picture Dictionary at the back of the Student Book gives students another opportunity to practice the words.

Warm-Up and Review

- Play a game or do an activity which reviews the grammar patterns used in the Cross-curricular page.

Introduce the Words

- Introduce each vocabulary item in such a way that students both hear and understand the meaning of each word. To do this, hold up the Student Book, point to the picture and name each Cross-curricular word, one by one. Students listen. Call out the target vocabulary words randomly. Students respond with the corresponding number. Call out the numbers. Students respond with the corresponding target vocabulary words. Alternate methods for introducing words are provided where appropriate.

Practice the Words

A. Do you eat plants and animals?

- Focus students' attention on the pictures on the top half of the page. Students look at the pictures and name anything they can.

B. Listen and repeat. 🎧

- Play the recording. Students listen and repeat, pointing to each picture in the Student Book. Play the recording as many times as necessary for students to identify the vocabulary.

C. Listen and read. 🎧

- Play the recording. Students listen and repeat, pointing to the photos in their books. Students then practice reading the text with a partner.

D. Comprehension Activity

- Focus students' attention on the activity on the bottom half of the page. Detailed instructions are provided for each exercise.

E. Write the words.

- Students turn to My Picture Dictionary at the back of the Student Book (pages 70–74). They look through the alphabetical Picture Dictionary to find the picture of each target vocabulary item, then write the word next to it.

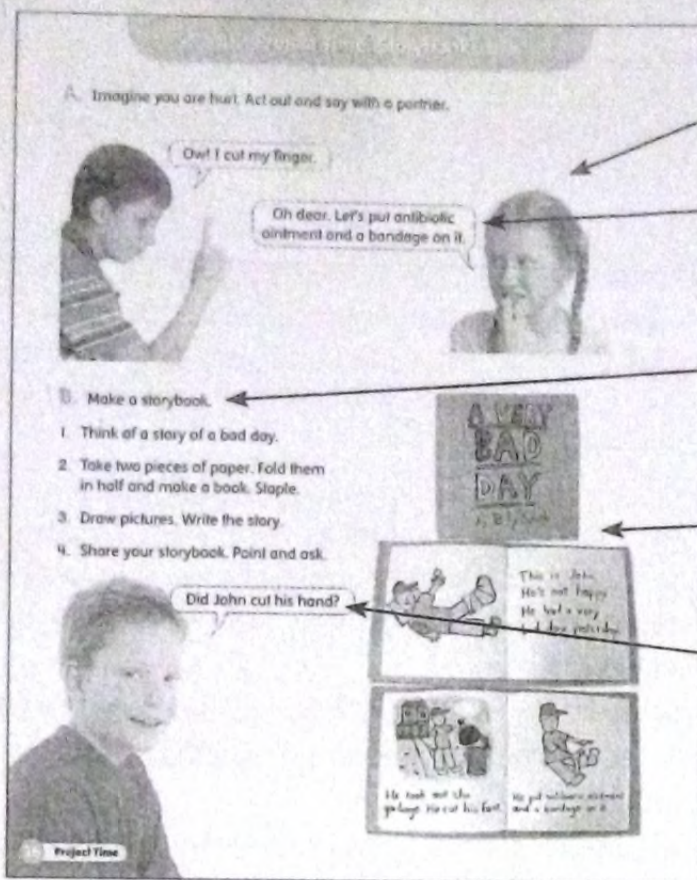

Games and Activities

- In order to internalize the new vocabulary, students practice it through various games and activities. A game is provided in each lesson plan.

Finish the Lesson

- Finish the lesson with a quick, simple game or activity to further practice the vocabulary. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.

Cross-curricular: Project Time Sample Page and Lesson Plan

• An illustrative example of the part of the communicative activity that students need to prepare is provided.

• An example of language to be used by students in order to complete the activity.

• Students do various engaging projects closely related to the content of the lesson to internalize and personalize the material.

• An illustrative example is provided to help students visualize the completed project.

• An example of the language is provided to help students talk about their projects.

Warm-Up and Review

- Play a game or do an activity which reviews the vocabulary learned in the previous lesson and any additional grammar patterns. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.
- Check the Cross-curricular Workbook page that students did in class or for homework. Answer keys are provided at the back of the Teacher's Book.

Complete the Projects

A. (Interactive communicative activity)

- Each Project Time page has a communicative activity to reinforce the target vocabulary and content of the lesson. These activities allow the student to use the language to interact with their classmates. Detailed instructions are provided with each activity.

B. (Structured project activity)

- Each Project Time page has a project activity to further reinforce the target language. Detailed instructions are provided for introducing the language used for the project, making the project and games and activities that encourage students to talk about the completed project.

Games and Activities

- In order to internalize the new vocabulary, students practice it through various games and activities. A game is provided in each lesson plan.

Finish the Lesson

- Finish the lesson with a quick, simple game or activity utilizing the students' projects to further practice and internalize the material. An activity is provided in each lesson plan.

Classroom Management

Motivating Students

Motivation plays a vital role in language acquisition. When overall motivation is high, students behave well and participate fully in the activities.

Tips to maintain high student motivation:

- Be enthusiastic and motivated as a teacher. Enthusiasm is contagious! A positive classroom atmosphere stimulates creativity and student participation.
- Provide activities in which all students participate. This gives students the opportunity to get to know and learn from their classmates.
- Acknowledge all students, especially those who are shy and reticent to speak, in order to make them feel important and successful. Acknowledge participation, good behavior, and helpfulness as well as language proficiency. Words of praise and acknowledgment:

Good job!

Very good!

Good try!

That was so much better than the last time!

Good for you!

You're showing so much improvement!

Try again.

Thank you so much.

Thanks for helping me.

What a good helper you are!

I've really noticed how hard you're trying.

Thank you for working so hard.

You're being a really good listener. Thank you!

- Provide classroom opportunities for students to communicate in English. The more students speak English, the more confident and motivated they will become as language learners.
- Take care not to make students speak in front of the class if they are not ready to do so, as this can negatively affect their motivation and self-confidence. In any one class there will be students who are still absorbing the language and thus not ready to speak, and those who are ready to challenge themselves by using the new language.

Discipline

A well-managed classroom can maintain motivation and keep discipline problems to a minimum.

Tips to establish and maintain classroom discipline:

- Establish a clear set of rules at the beginning of each class session, and consistently maintain it. Write down the rules and display them where students can see them. For example: Listen while others are talking. Acknowledge students when these rules are followed.
- Remind students often of what is expected of them. Basic classroom expectations include participation, acceptable behavior, trying to use the new language, and quality work. If the best is expected of students, they will most likely rise to the occasion!

In addition, consider the reasons behind inappropriate behavior and attempt to address these issues. Possible reasons for behavior problems:

- The lesson content is not sufficiently interesting or challenging. If lessons become too repetitive, mechanical, or easy, students lose interest.
- Lesson preparation is not adequate, resulting in class disruptions that distract students. Prepare lessons well and in advance so that there are no surprises and the lesson can proceed smoothly with no major disruptions.
- The language level of the class is not in line with students' abilities. Make a note of students' abilities by observing them and then adjusting the lesson to the appropriate level. Teacher's Logs (see pages 24–25) assist in keeping a record of students' abilities and involvement.
- The teacher-student relationship is not good. Identify and rectify any areas of present or potential conflict by speaking to the student in question or his/her parents.
- Some students may be more aggressive than others or may be attention seekers. Try to understand why a student is aggressive or attention-seeking and address the issue with the student and/or his/her parents.
- External factors such as the weather, family problems, or after-school activities affect students' motivation and behaviors. Be aware of these factors and address them as necessary.
- Some students may have learning disabilities or special needs and therefore face greater educational challenges. Consult their parents or a professional if necessary.

Homework

Homework provides a valuable opportunity for students to practice and reinforce the language introduced in class. Homework also gives parents an opportunity to participate in their child's learning.

Tips to motivate students to do their homework:

- Make sure that the amount of homework is at a manageable level, and discuss the purpose and importance of the homework with students.
- Explain the homework activity carefully, completing one or two examples with students in class.

- Reward students for completing homework, even if it is not all correct. These rewards can be stickers, simple drawings, or comments.

Multiple Intelligences

Students have different learning styles. It is important to take these different learning styles or multiple intelligences into account when planning lessons so that all students have an opportunity to learn in their style. This will lead to greater motivation, and ultimately greater learning. Suggested methods of addressing the eight main learning styles or areas of intelligence:

- Spatial/Visual: Use visual aids such as maps, big flashcards, and realia. Art projects are also useful.
- Kinesthetic: Use movement with songs, chants, or games that include, for example, running or slapping cards. Gestures, role plays, and dramas can also be employed.
- Musical: Use body percussion (stamping, clapping, patting, snapping) to enhance songs and chants.
- Linguistic: Use oral drilling or activities that require speaking. Students can share ideas, solve problems, role play, and do stage performances.
- Logical-Mathematical: Do puzzles, sequencing activities, or classification activities that involve logical deduction. For example: A is taller than B but shorter than C. Who is the shortest?
- Interpersonal: Involve students in activities or games in which they work together in pairs or groups.
- Intrapersonal: Involve students in individual activities that require personal input.
- Natural World: Show how the structure/organization of language relates to things in nature. For example: Draw a tree and write the root form of the verb on the trunk. Then write the various verb tenses on the tree's branches.

Teacher Tools

Lesson Plans

English Time Teacher's Books provide comprehensive, step-by-step lesson plans for teaching each Student Book page. However, it is crucial that teachers create personalized lesson plans which take into account their students' learning styles, levels, and needs, as well as the exact goal of the lesson and the time available for the lesson. Lesson Plans provided in the Teacher's Book can be modified to create custom lesson plans.

Visual Aids

Visual aids such as pictures, picture cards, posters, signs, and realia are valuable teaching aids that support students' understanding of new language without requiring translation. Students can be involved in making visual aids, by, for example, drawing and coloring flashcards of target language.

Bulletin Boards

Bulletin boards enliven any classroom, creating a positive, warm environment that welcomes students to every class. They can be made to reflect students' interests and individuality, thus helping students to feel ownership and pride in their classroom. Tips for using bulletin boards:

- Designate a space on the bulletin board as a culture corner, and display pictures of other countries or cultures. On a map of the world students can use pins to mark places in the world where English is spoken.
- Display student pictures on the bulletin board or walls. Be sure that every student has an opportunity to display his/her work.
- Display any materials that can be reviewed from previous lessons. For example: color charts, vocabulary words, letters whose sounds students have learned.
- Designate a space on the bulletin board as a photo corner. Display photos of students working on projects or activities in the classroom, pictures of students on special trips, or students at home.

Games and Activities

Games and activities are a vital component of any curriculum for language learners. Games provide a strong motivation for students to experience the language in a natural, meaningful, and enjoyable way. Pages 92–99 feature games that can be used in any class.

Tips to ensure successful games and activities in class:

- Clearly understand the instructions before explaining them to students. Then bring students to the front of the classroom and have them model each step of the game as the teacher explains it. Students can learn how to play a game explained entirely in English if the steps are modeled in a logical and sequential manner.
- Control and focus the game so that students use the target language in a meaningful way and have fun.

Forming Groups and Pairs

Utilize quick and easy methods of forming groups so that there is minimal class disruption. Consider students' abilities and personalities when forming groups.

Tips to form groups:

- Utilize groups that naturally exist within the classroom. For example: one row of students can form a group or students can form groups with students sitting nearby.
- Have students count off around the class, then have students with the same number form one group.
- Have students form groups with others wearing the same color shirt, or with the same initials or birthdays.

Storybooks

Storybooks present natural language with visuals to clarify meaning. For this reason it is beneficial to build a classroom library of storybooks that students can look at before or after class. Read storybooks which contain language students know for five minutes at the end of each class.

Tips for using storybooks in the classroom:

- Choose volunteers to play the roles of characters in the story and dramatize their characters' lines.
- Choose a volunteer to read the story aloud while his/her classmates act it out in groups.
- Have students perform the story with paper puppets they make.
- Have students draw specific scenes from the story on large pieces of paper. Hang these scenes in sequential order on the walls. Students then narrate or provide dialogue for their scene in the story.
- Once students can perform the story comfortably, videotape it and play the tape for the class and/or parents.

Songs and Chants

Singing and chanting in class can play a vital role in children's language development. A song or chant is provided in each English Time Student Book unit. The Teacher's Book offers detailed activities to enhance each song and chant.

Tips to make songs other than those in the Student Book an integral part of the classroom:

- Choose a new song every month for students to sing as they clean up after activities.
- Play English children's songs while students are working, drawing, or coloring.

Practical Teaching Tips

Several practical teaching tips:

- Establish a signal to be used to get students' attention. For example: clap your hands twice, flicker the lights, or ring a bell.
- Plan to change activities approximately every five to seven minutes, as young students have short attention spans. It is thus important to plan more than enough activities so that it is possible to quickly change to another activity without disrupting the class. It is also recommended to change activities before students lose interest or become bored. This way students will look forward to doing the activity again in future lessons.
- Give students advance notice before changing activities. Doing so allows students to finish what they are doing and mentally prepare for the next activity.
- Develop a class routine and follow it in each lesson. Students will develop a sense of security, which will lead to greater participation.
- Ask students for feedback on how they experience the class. Acknowledge their feedback and make any appropriate changes to meet their needs.

English as the Language of Instruction

Language input is one of the most important aspects of language learning. This is especially true in places where English is neither widely heard, spoken, nor seen outside the classroom. For this reason, conduct as much of each lesson as possible in English.

Tips to maximize English usage in the classroom:

- Give all instructions in English. Use gestures, body language, or visual aids to convey the meaning.
- Use previously learned language on a regular basis in all classes so that it becomes a natural part of students' English vocabulary.
- Look for any occasion to provide opportunities for students to experience the use of English in a communicative, meaningful, and interesting way. For example: invite a native English speaker to class to speak to students.

Assessment

Continual student evaluation and assessment is crucial in order to determine in which areas students require further explanation and/or practice. Assessment methods include traditional tests and Teacher's Logs. In the latter, the teacher's observations and assessments of students are recorded during or after each class.

Correcting Students

Correcting mistakes is an important role of any teacher. The manner of correction will depend on whether the activity is accuracy-based (the focus is on speaking perfectly) or fluency-based (the focus is on speaking as much as possible). Pay attention to students' reactions to correction. Some students accept being corrected without losing confidence or motivation. Others, however, become self-conscious and reticent for fear of making mistakes. Try to avoid over-correction so that students can learn from their mistakes without losing motivation or confidence in their speaking ability.

Methods of correction during accuracy-focused activities:

- Point out the error, provide the correct form, and have the student repeat the correct form. For example: A student says Yesterday I go to school. Say Go while shaking your head. Then say Yesterday I went to school, emphasizing went. The student repeats.
- Repeat the student's sentence, stressing the error with rising intonation. Then immediately repeat the sentence, pausing before the error, and have the student give the correct form. For example: A student says Yesterday I go to school. Say Yesterday I go (rising intonation) to school. Yesterday I _____. The student completes the sentence with went to school.

Methods of correction during fluency-focused activities:

- Rephrase students' mistakes in correct English. Do not interrupt them in order to correct their mistakes. It is not necessary for students to repeat the corrected sentence. For example: A student says Yesterday I go to school. Say Oh, yesterday you went to school, slightly emphasizing went.
- At times refrain from correcting the students during games or storytime. This enhances motivation and lends a sense of fun and excitement to the class. During group work, walk around the classroom, listen to students and note any common mistakes. Once the activity is done, correct these mistakes with the class as a whole.

Teaching Large Classes

Large classes present special challenges for monitoring student participation and learning.

Tips to effectively teach large classes:

- Walk around the classroom and listen while students work in pairs or in groups. Note any areas in which students are having difficulty and address these with the entire class at the end of the activity.
- If a lesson includes a game that requires movement in or around the classroom, divide the class into two groups. One group can play the game while the other group does a quiet activity at their desks. Groups can then change roles.
- Enlist the help of another teacher. Both teachers can model games or activities and share the task of monitoring and helping students.
- Make sure all students, especially those at the back of the classroom, can see the teaching materials clearly. Use large visual aids or walk around the classroom with the material so that all students are able to see it up close.

Introducing Culture in the Classroom

As students learn English and acquire an openness toward it as a foreign language, nurture a similar open attitude toward foreign cultures. Initiate this by introducing the flags and locations of different countries, and discussing the daily life of people from other countries. Then introduce samples of folk art and music, children's games, ways of greeting, coins, and stamps. Use photographs, realia, books and magazines, or video to introduce these elements of culture. Embassies or Consulates are often more than willing to provide free information about their countries.

Involving Parents

Parents are a vital source of information about students. Parental feedback can reveal aspects of the students' language development that are evident at home but not in class. They can also provide valuable information on students' special needs or problems. Inform parents of what their children are learning and the progress they are making. Parents' interest in their children's learning and support can lead to a higher level of student motivation.

Tips and suggestions to involve parents:

- Send home a monthly newsletter detailing the language the class is studying. Include some work students have done if possible.
- Host a parent class where parents and their children can participate together in class activities. This is a good chance to explain to parents what their children are learning and how they are learning it. Present English songs, original stories, or choral readings, and display students' work and pictures.
- Send a letter home to parents at the beginning of the course to introduce yourself as well as the material their child will be studying.

Classroom Language

Focus: Frequently used classroom language

Materials Needed: CD and player

Introduce the Language

- Tell students that in this lesson they are going to hear language that they can use in different classroom situations. Brainstorm with students different things they might want to say to each other or to their teacher during English class. See if students can then produce language to use in the different situations they have brainstormed. Accept any reasonable answers, and write them on the board.

Practice the Language

- Students open their Student Books to pages vi–vii.

A. Listen and repeat. 1.1

- Students look at the twelve scenes to see if any of the situations they brainstormed are illustrated on the page.
- Play the recording. Students listen and repeat.
 - A Collect the homework, please.
 - B Okay.
 - A Pass out the paper, please.
 - B Can I help?
 - A Share a book with your classmate.
 - B Let's use mine.
 - A Ask your classmate a question about page 24.
 - B What's he doing?
 - A May I get a drink of water?
 - B Not right now. In a minute.
 - A Make a sentence with the word "night."
 - B I practice the piano at night.
 - A Who can tell me the answer?
 - B I can.
 - C Me, too.
 - A Please repeat after me. He wants fruit.
 - B He wants fruit.
 - A Please memorize page 18.
 - B That's easy.

Work with the Text

- Point to Annie's speech bubble in Number 1. A volunteer guesses what Annie is saying. If he/she guesses correctly, do the same with Ted's speech bubble. If he/she does not guess correctly, ask another student. Prompt if necessary.
- Do the same with all the scenes on the page. Quickly review any language items students are having trouble remembering.

NOTE It is not necessary for students to guess the exact words of the characters. Accept their guesses as long as they convey the gist of what the character is saying.

Games and Activities

- Around the World. (Game 67, Page 99.) Two volunteers stand. Say an injury, for example, Strained a muscle. The first student of the pair to correctly name the first aid treatment, Ice pack, continues with the next student. Play another round saying a first aid treatment to which students respond with a corresponding injury.

Finish the Lesson

- Tic-Tac-Toe. Draw a 3x3 grid on the board. Number the squares 1–9. Divide the class into two teams. Designate one team X and one team O. Teams choose numbers and answer questions about the text in order to win squares for their team. The first team to earn three squares in a row wins. Some example questions might include, Look at Number 1. What did she do? / What did she put on it? / Did she burn her foot? / Did she put a bandage on it?, etc.
- Workbook page 15. (Answers, Teacher's Book page 102.)

Project Time

Language Focus: first aid treatments and injury terms
(Ow! I (cut) my (hand). Oh dear. Let's put (antibiotic ointment) and (a bandage) on it. Did (John) (cut his hand)?)

Materials Needed: a storybook, paper, crayons, markers; pictures of the various first aid treatments and injuries from magazines, newspapers and/or the Internet

Warm-Up and Review

- Vocabulary: I (cut) (my finger). Review the target vocabulary on page 15 by asking students to identify the words one by one. Say I burned my arm. Encourage students to think of as many body parts as they can to pair up with burn. After each pair say Put (antibiotic ointment) on it. Encourage students to join in with you. Continue for each of the other three injuries.

A. Imagine you are hurt. Act out and say with a partner.

- Students turn to page 16 in their Student Books. Ask a student to come to the front. Whisper one of the injuries to the student and let him/her come up with the first aid treatment. Then act it out for the class. Demonstrate with a volunteer once more. Ask students to choose a partner, choose an injury and a first aid treatment and prepare their pantomime.
- Focus students' attention on the speech bubble examples in Activity A. Say the following while pointing to the speech bubbles.
Ow! I cut my hand.
Oh, dear. Let's put antibiotic ointment and a bandage on it.
- If time allows, ask students to choose another injury to act out.
- Ask each pair to choose one of the injuries they chose and act it out in front of the class.

B. Make a storybook.

1. Hold up the storybook you have brought to class. Say A storybook. Students repeat. Write the four injuries on the board. Ask students to brainstorm all of the ways someone might have incurred those injuries. Write them on the board under the corresponding injury. For example, under burn students might say, Cooking breakfast or Making tea. Continue until you have several activities for each injury. Students open their books to page 16. Point to the storybook example in the book and say A storybook. Students repeat. Say the following while pointing to the text and pictures in Activity B. Students repeat.

A Very Bad Day
by Billy Smith

*This is John. He's not happy. He had a very bad day.
He took out the garbage. He cut his foot.
He put antibiotic ointment and a bandage on it.*
Students think about the story they'd like to write.

2. Make sure students have paper, crayons, markers and pictures of injuries from magazines, newspapers and/or the Internet. Help students staple their storybook pages together.
 3. Students make their storybooks. They write captions in their storybooks similar to the storybook example in their books.
 4. Now point to the speech bubble and say Did John cut his hand? Students repeat.
Ask volunteers to come to the front and read their stories to the class. Students point to the pictures in their storybooks and ask their classmates questions.
- Display the storybooks on the walls of the classroom if possible. If not, place them along the marker tray or on the board with magnets.

Games and Activities

- Storybook Memory Chain. Divide the class into two or three teams. The first student from the first team says the injury of the character of his/her storybook, for example, Mary cut her foot. The first student from the second team says that sentence and adds the injury of the character in his/her storybook, for example, Mary cut her foot and Peter broke his arm. Continue playing this way until someone is unable to repeat all the previous statements. Award a point for each correct try. Play another round with the first aid treatments of the characters in the students' storybooks.

Finish the Lesson

- Race to the Story. Ask two or three volunteers to come to the front. Without letting the students know which storybook you're referring to, say the story line of one of the students' storybooks. For example, say Tom played basketball. He sprained a muscle in his arm. He put an ice pack on it. The volunteers look around trying to find the corresponding storybook. When they find it, he/she says, Here it is. Look! Tom sprained a muscle in his foot. The volunteer who is the first to find the storybook takes the role of the teacher and new volunteers are called to the front.

- Play the recording. Students listen and repeat, pointing to each photo in the Student Book.

- | | |
|------------------|----------------|
| 1 multiplication | 2 word problem |
| 3 multiplied by | 4 equation |
| 5 division | 6 divided by |
| 7 answer | |

- Say the words in random order. Students point to the pictures in their Student Books.

C. Listen and read. 1.80

- Play the recording. Students listen and repeat, pointing to the photos in their books.

Read this word problem: Tim has three friends. He bought two cookies for each friend. How many cookies did he buy?

This is a multiplication problem. Look at the equation. Three multiplied by two equals six. The answer is six.

Now read this word problem. The teacher has twelve crayons. Four students want to draw. How many crayons does each student get?

This is a division problem. Look at the equation. Twelve divided by four is three. The answer is three.

- Divide the class into two groups. Each group reads one part of the text aloud. Continue until each group has read each of the parts aloud.
- Students choose a partner and read the text, alternating turns.

D. Read and circle the correct word.

- Students read the sentences. They then circle the word(s) that correctly completes the sentence.
- Check answers by saying Number 1 and having a volunteer read the completed sentence. Do the same for numbers 2–5.

E. Write the words. (See pages 70–74.)

- Students turn to My Picture Dictionary (pages 70–74), find each target vocabulary item, and write the word next to it.

Games and Activities

- Equation Race. (Game 68, page 99.) Divide the class into small groups of four or five students. Assign each group a portion of the board. Say any number. Groups race to think of as many multiplication and division problems with that answer as they can in a minute's time. They write the equations on the board. Ask groups to read each of their equations aloud for the class. Award each group one point for each correct equation. The group with the most points wins.

Finish the Lesson

- Equation Chain. Divide the class into two teams. Say an equation, for example Four multiplied by five equals twenty. The first team uses the answer of your equation, twenty, and makes a new equation, for example Twenty divided by two equals ten. The second team uses the answer, ten, to make a new equation. Continue playing until one team is unable to think of an equation or does so incorrectly.
- Workbook page 30. (Answers, Teacher's Book page 104.)

Project Time

Language Focus: math terms and word problems (There are five people in my family. My brother picked five apples for each person. How many apples did he pick? Five multiplied by five is twenty. What's two multiplied by four?)

Materials Needed: a bag of cookies, scrap paper; poster paper, crayons, markers; pictures of multiple everyday objects from magazines, newspapers and/or the Internet

Warm-Up and Review

- Vocabulary: Word Problems. Review the math terms on page 31. Ask students to identify the words one by one. Say several incomplete sentences and ask students to say the word(s) that complete them. For example, say, Six BLANK by six equals thirty-six. Students say Multiplied. Then say This is a BLANK problem. Students say Multiplication. Then write One ticket is seven dollars. How much are six tickets? Point to this and say This is a BLANK problem. Students say Word. Encourage students to ask the class a word problem.

A. Write a multiplication or a division word problem. Ask and answer with a partner.

- Students turn to page 32 in their Student Books. Take out the cookies. Say I have (thirty) cookies. I have fifteen students. How many cookies can I give each student? Students say Two cookies. Say Right. That's a word problem. Thirty divided by fifteen is two. That's an equation. Then give students the cookies. Make sure students have scrap paper. Ask students to think of a word problem and write it on a piece of scrap paper.
- Focus students' attention on the speech bubble examples in Activity A. Say the following while pointing to the speech bubbles.
*There are five people in my family.
My brother picked five apples for each person.
How many apples did he pick?
Five multiplied by five is twenty-five.
He picked twenty-five apples.*
- Students choose a partner. They ask word problems, alternating turns. If time allows, ask students to prepare one multiplication and one division problem.
- Ask each pair to ask their word problems in front of the class.

B. Make a math poster.

1. Ask students to brainstorm some of the activities they can use in their word problems. For example, buy donuts, bake cookies, pick apples/flowers, take pictures, cook hot dogs, buy tickets (One ticket is $5. How much are seven tickets?). Write their ideas on the board. Students open their books to page 32. Point to the math poster in the book and say A math poster. Students repeat. Say the following while pointing to the text and pictures in Activity B. Students repeat.
*This is a multiplication problem. My mother cooked breakfast this morning. She made two eggs for each person in my family. There are four people in my family. How many eggs did she cook?
This is the equation: $2 \times 4 = 8$*

This is a division problem. I made eighteen cakes. Six friends came to my house. How many cakes did they each get?

This is the equation: $18 \div 6 = 3$

Ask students to think of one multiplication and one division problem.

2. Make sure students have poster paper, crayons, markers and pictures of multiple everyday items from magazines, newspapers and/or the Internet. Students write the problems and equations on their posters.
3. Students then illustrate their posters.
4. Now point to the speech bubble and say What's two multiplied by four? Students repeat.

Ask volunteers to come to the front and share their math posters with the class. Students point to their posters and ask their classmates questions.

Place the posters on the walls of the classroom if possible. If not, place them along the marker tray or on the board with magnets.

Games and Activities

- Find a Word Problem. Say any number that you know is the answer to one of the word problems on one (or more) of the posters. Students walk around the room looking at the posters, trying to find a word problem with that answer. The first student to do so says Here's one! and then reads the word problem. There may be more than one word problem for the number you have chosen. Repeat the activity several times.

Finish the Lesson

- Word Problem Poster Chain. Ask a student (S1) to stand. Walk over to any one of the posters and ask the student one of the word problems on the poster. The student tells you the answer. S1 then chooses another poster and asks a student (S2) one of the word problems. S2 answers and continues the activity with another student (S3). Continue until one problem has been chosen from each poster.
- Workbook page 30. (Answers, Teacher's Book page 104.)

Introduce the Conversation

- See page 8.

NOTE If students need additional support, practice the conversation using the visual prompts on the board.

Talk About the Picture

This girl wants to buy a T-shirt, but she's not sure which one she wants. It's time to go, so her father wants her to make up her mind. The girl chooses this T-shirt. The father wants to make sure that the girl picked the T-shirt she really wants, so he asks Are you sure? The father doesn't see the cash register, where they'll pay for the T-shirt, so the girl says Dad, the cashier is over here.

- Ask the following questions while pointing to the pictures (bold words).
(T-shirts) What are these?
Who wants to buy one?
(daughter) What does she want?
(girl) Does she really want the T-shirt?
Where is the cashier?

Practice the Conversation

 - A Thanks.
 - B No problem.

OPTION Students role-play the conversation.

Games and Activities

- Add On the Next Word. (Game 7, page 92.)

Finish the Lesson

- Pantomime. Bring a volunteer to the front of the classroom, and have him/her silently act out one line of the target conversation. Seated students try to guess what line the volunteer is acting out, then say that line of the conversation. The first student to guess correctly changes places with the volunteer and acts out another line of the conversation in the same way. Continue in the same way with five to six new volunteers.
- Workbook page 31. (Answers, Teacher's Book page 105.)

ANSWER

Digger found a camera.

Extra Vocabulary

- Students turn to page 33. Introduce the extra vocabulary items seahorse, starfish, seal for students to find.

Games and Activities

- Mobiles. (Game 22, page 94.) Divide the class into groups of four to six. Each group creates a mobile of the target marine animals. Two groups then join together and tell each other about their mobiles, saying, for example, This is a whale. It's gray and it's big. That's an eel. It's ugly and long. Display the mobiles around the classroom for future reference.

Finish the Lesson

- Guess What's Missing. Write the Word Time target vocabulary on the board; students read each word aloud. Have students shut their eyes. Erase one or two words. Students then try to identify which word is missing. Whoever guesses first erases the next two words. Continue until all the words have been erased.

Practice Time

Language Focus: Comparatives [The (whale) is (bigger) than the (dolphin).]

Function: Expressing comparisons

Materials Needed: CD and player; Unit 7 song with one word from each line (either the adjective or than) deleted, 1 copy per student

Warm-Up and Review

- Vocabulary Review: Underwater World. Hold up Student Book page 34. Elicit each word. Then point to one of the animal pictures and ask Is this a (dolphin)? Students respond either Yes, it is. or No, it isn't. It's a (whale). Do the same with the remaining animal pictures. Then point to each animal picture again and ask Is the (dolphin) (small)? Elicit (No, it isn't. It's (big).) Continue in the same way with the remaining adjectives and animal pictures.

Introduce the Patterns

- See page 12.

NOTE To form the comparative form of most short adjectives, add -er. If the vowel before the last consonant is short, double the final consonant to form the comparative (for example: big → bigger).

Practice the Patterns

Students open their books to page 35.

Food Chain

Language Focus: the food chain (food chain, producers, consumers, herbivores, carnivores, omnivores)

Function: Identifying and categorizing plants and animals in the food chain.

Materials Needed: CD and player

Warm-Up and Review

- Review: Animal Review. Ask students to think of all the animals, insects and bugs they are able to identify in English. Write them on the board. Play a round of Memory Chain. Ask a student which animal he/she likes. The student (S1) says I like (giraffes), and chooses a classmate (S2) to continue. S2 says (Mary) likes giraffes and I like (whales). S2 then chooses another student and so on around the room.

Introduce the Words

- See page 10.

CULTURE NOTE In some text books in the United States, carnivores are referred to as 'meat-eaters' while herbivores are referred to as 'plant-eaters'. People who do not eat meat are referred to as 'vegetarians'.

Practice the Vocabulary

A. Do you eat plants and animals?

- Students open their books to page 47. They look at the photographs and name anything they can.

B. Listen and repeat. 2.38

- Play the recording. Students listen and repeat, pointing to each photo in their Student Books.

1 food chain	2 producers
3 consumers	4 herbivores
5 carnivores	6 omnivores
- Say the words in random order. Students point to the pictures in their Student Books.

C. Listen and read. 2.39

- Play the recording. Students listen and repeat, pointing to the photos in their books.

Everything needs food to live. Look at the food chain. There are flowers and plants. Plants are producers. They are food for others. Caterpillars eat plants. Then birds eat caterpillars. Then cats eat birds. Caterpillars and cats are consumers. People are consumers, too. They eat food.

Some animals are herbivores. They eat plants. Elephants, rabbits, and bees are herbivores.

Some animals are carnivores. They eat other animals. Sharks, cheetahs, and spiders are carnivores.

Some animals are omnivores. They eat plants and animals. Which animals are omnivores? Are you an herbivore, carnivore, or omnivore?

- Divide the class into five groups. Each group reads one part of the text aloud. Continue until each group has read each of the parts aloud.
- Students choose a partner and read the text, alternating turns.

D. Read and circle the correct word.

- Students read the sentences. They then circle the word(s) that correctly completes the sentence.
- Check answers by saying Number 1 and having a volunteer read the completed sentence. Do the same for numbers 2–5.

E. Write the words. (See pages 70–74.)

- Students turn to My Picture Dictionary (pages 70–74), find each target vocabulary item, and write the word next to it.

Games and Activities

- Hit the Board. Divide the class into two teams. Ask a student from each team to come to the front. Say any one of the animals that you had written on the board in the warm-up activity. The first student to hit the word on the board and identify the animal as herbivore, carnivore or omnivore wins a point for his/her team.

Finish the Lesson

- Animal Brainstorm. Divide the class into three or four small groups. Assign each group a portion of the board. Call the groups to the front. Groups assign one of their members as the "writer". Say Herbivores. Groups write as many animals that are herbivores as they can on the board in one minute. Give each group one point for each correct animal. Play two more rounds, once for carnivores and once for omnivores.
- Workbook page 45. (Answers, Teacher's Book page 107.)

Project Time

Language Focus: the food chain [This animal lives in the (ocean). It's (smaller) than a (whale). It's a (carnivore). It's a (shark)! Are (chimpanzees) (herbivores)?]

Materials Needed: scrap paper; paper or index cards, crayons, markers; pictures of animals and insects from magazines, newspapers and/or the Internet

Warm-Up and Review

- Vocabulary: Food Chain. Review the food chain vocabulary on page 47. Ask students to identify the words one by one. Then ask them to read the text aloud as a group. Ask students to close their books. Scramble one of the sentences from the text, for example, say are, some, carnivores, animals. Students try to unscramble the sentence and say Some animals are carnivores. If they are unable to do so, let them open their books and look at the text. Play until you've covered ten or twelve sentences of the text.

A. Write two animals and two clues. Ask and answer with a partner.

- Students turn to page 48 in their Student Books. Say This animal lives on a farm. It's shorter than a horse. It's an herbivore. What animal is it? Students guess which animal you're describing until one student is able to say It's a cow! Make sure students have scrap paper. Ask students to think of two animals and two clues for each animal and write it on a piece of scrap paper.
- Focus students' attention on the speech bubble examples in Activity A. Say the following while pointing to the speech bubbles.
*This animal lives in the ocean. It's smaller than a whale. It's a carnivore.
It's a shark!*
- Students choose a partner. They give their clues about the animals they have chosen, alternating turns.
- Ask each pair to give clues for one of the animals they have chosen to the class.

B. Make animal fun fact cards.

1. Write the headings Herbivore, Carnivore and Omnivore horizontally on the board. Point to Herbivore and ask students to brainstorm the animals they know that are herbivores. Write them on the board. Do the same for Carnivore and Omnivore. Pointing to an animal, ask questions about it, for example, Where does it live? What color is it? How big/small is it? Elicit any other facts students can say about the animal. Then hold up one of the index cards you have brought to class and say A card. Students repeat. Students open their books to page 48. Point to the fun fact card samples in the book and say Fun fact cards. Students repeat. Say the following while pointing to the text and pictures in Activity B. Students repeat.

Chimpanzee

- 1 A lot of chimpanzees live in forests.
- 2 They can sleep in trees.
- 3 They're omnivores.

Turtle

Ask students to think of five animals.

2. Make sure students have cards or card-sized paper, crayons, markers and pictures of animals from magazines, newspapers and/or the Internet. Students write the animals and illustrate their cards.
3. Students then write three facts about each animal.
4. Now point to the speech bubble and say Are chimpanzees herbivores? Students repeat.

Ask volunteers to come to the front and share their fun fact cards with the class. Students hold up their cards and ask their classmates questions.

Place the fun fact cards (or a portion of them) on the walls of the classroom if possible. If not, place them along the marker tray or on the board with magnets.

Games and Activities

- Do You Remember? Divide the class into three or four small groups. Portion off a section of the board for each group. Ask the groups to look at all the displayed fun fact cards and try to remember all the facts they can about as many animals as possible. Don't let them write information down. Ask them to sit down. Say an animal. Groups go to the board and write down all of the facts they remember in one minute. Give groups one point for each correct fact. Continue several times.

Finish the Lesson

- Favorite Fun Fact Card. Ask students to look around at the fun fact cards and choose their favorite (other than their own). Ask the student to hold up the card and say This fun fact card is my favorite. Look at the bee. It's an herbivore. A queen bee can live for five years. Continue until everyone has had a chance.

Warm-Up and Review

- Review: Directions Review. Write Up, Down, Right and Left on the board. Ask students to identify them one by one. Play a few rounds of Teacher Says. Say a command using the directions above, for example, Stand up. Sit down. Look right. Look left. Hold up your pencil. Put down your pencil. Stand on your right foot. Raise your right arm., etc. If before the command, you first say Teacher Says..., the students perform the command. If you don't say Teacher Says..., students do not perform the command. Those who perform the command incorrectly, or without you saying Teacher Says..., sit down. Give the commands at an increasingly faster pace. When only a few students are standing, ask the seated students to join in and play another round.

Introduce the Words

- See page 10.

CULTURE NOTE In the United States, directions are combined in the following way: Northwest, Northeast, Southwest and Southeast. This may be different in your students' native language.

Practice the Vocabulary

A. Can you read a map?

- Students open their books to page 63. They look at the photographs and name anything they can.

B. Listen and repeat. 🎧 2.78

- Students listen to the recording and repeat, pointing to each photo in their Student Books.

- | | |
|------------------|----------------|
| 1 compass | 2 north |
| 3 west | 4 east |
| 5 south | 6 globe |
| 7 equator | |

- Say the words in random order. Students point to the pictures in their Student Books.

C. Listen and read. 🎧 2.79

- Play the recording. Students listen and repeat, pointing to the photos in their books.
Maps help us learn about places. There are a lot of different maps. There are city maps, road maps and maps of lakes, mountains, and oceans. Look. Can you see N, S, E and W on the compass? North is up, south is down, east is right, and west is left. This is a globe. A globe is a map in the shape of the Earth. Look at the equator. When it is summer south of the equator, it is winter north of the equator. Do you live north or south of the equator?
- Divide the class into two groups. Each group reads one of part of the text aloud. Continue until each group has read each of the parts aloud.
- Practice the text with a partner. Students choose a partner and read the text, alternating turns.

D. Is it true? Write ✓ or X.

- Students read the sentences. They then write ✓ if the statement is true, and X if it is not.
- Check answers by saying Number 1 and having a volunteer say True or False. Do the same for numbers 2–5.

E. Write the words. (See pages 70–74.)

- Students turn to My Picture Dictionary (pages 70–74), find each target vocabulary item, and write the word next to it.

Games and Activities

- Text Scrambled Sentences. Divide the class into small groups of four or five students. Assign each group a portion of the board. Say about help places us maps learn. The first group to unscramble the sentence and send a group member to the board to write Maps help us learn about places., wins a point. The group with the most points wins.

Finish the Lesson

- Listen for the Mistake. Keep students divided in their small groups. Say a sentence from the text with a mistake, for example, A compass is a map of the Earth. The first team to find the mistake and send a group member to the board to write globe, wins a point. Ask the group to say the correct statement. The group with the most points wins.
- Workbook page 60. (Answers, Teacher's Book page 109.)

Project Time

Language Focus: geography terms [You're at the (apartment building). Go (west) (two squares). Where are you? This is my grandmother's house. What's north of her house?]

Materials Needed: paper; poster paper, crayons, markers; pictures of common city/country landmarks and places from magazines, newspapers and/or the Internet

Warm-Up and Review

- Vocabulary: Geography Terms. Review the target vocabulary on page 63. Ask students to identify the words one by one. Give the students clues for the target vocabulary. Students identify the words. Sample clues: This is a map in the shape of the Earth. (globe), This shows us North, South, East and West on a map. (compass), This is left. (west), This is up. (north), This is down. (south), This is right. (east), and This divides the Earth into north and south. (equator).

A. Draw four places. Tell your partner how to find the places.

- Students turn to page 64 in their Student Books. Draw a 5 x 5 grid on the board. Draw four commonly found places in your area in random squares on the grid. Label them. Ask a volunteer to come to the front. Say You're at the (park). The student writes X on the park or puts a magnet on it. Then tell the student how many squares to move and in which direction to find another location on the map. For example, say Go four squares north and three squares east. Where are you? The student counts the squares in the corresponding directions and says, I'm at the (bakery). He/She writes X or puts a magnet on the new location. Demonstrate again with a new volunteer. Make sure students have paper. Ask students to draw their grid maps.
- Focus students' attention on the speech bubble examples in Activity A. Say the following while pointing to the speech bubbles.
You're at the apartment building. Go west two squares. Go north one square. Where are you?
OK. West two squares and north one square. I'm at the school!
- Students choose a partner. They tell their partners how to locate various places on their grids.
- Ask each pair to demonstrate finding one place on their grid maps in front of the class.

B. Make a map.

1. Ask students to brainstorm some of the places they like to go. Then ask them to think of landmarks at those places, city, or country. Write them on the board. Students open their books to page 64. Point to the map in the book and say A map. Students repeat. Say the following while pointing to the text and pictures in Activity B. Students repeat.
Mountain.
Lake.
Grandmother's house.
Farm.

Ask students to think of a place that they like to go.

2. Make sure students have poster paper, crayons, markers and pictures of common city/country landmarks and places from magazines, newspapers and/or the Internet. Students draw their maps, illustrate them and write captions.
3. Now point to the speech bubble and say This is my grandmother's house. What is north of her house? Students repeat.

Ask volunteers to come to the front and share their maps with the class. Students point to their maps and ask their classmates questions.

Place the maps on the walls of the classroom if possible. If not, place them along the marker tray or on the board with magnets.

Games and Activities

- I Spy. (Game 70, page 99.) Choose a map without letting students know which one you have chosen. Say I spy an apartment building. There's a park north of the apartment building. The first student to correctly identify the corresponding map and say Here's the map. There's the apartment building and the park north of the apartment building. takes on the role of the teacher and continues the activity.

Finish the Lesson

- Pass the Message. Students work seated in rows. Call the first student from each row to the front and show them a map. Don't let the other students see. Tell the students that they must whisper to the next student in their row three things about the map, for example, There's a house on the map. There's a school west of the house and there's a park north of the house. The sentences are whispered down the row. When the sentences reach the last student in the row, he/she says it aloud. If it matches S1's sentences, the row wins a point. Students in each row now then move forward one seat and do the activity again. Continue until all students have had a turn sitting in the first seat.
- Workbook page 60. (Answers, Teacher's Book page 109.)

Games and Activities for Conversation Practice

1. Combine the Conversations.

Combine a conversation from Level 3 with the target conversation on the board in the following way:

- A Wake up, Annie! It's time for breakfast!
B Okay. But I can't find my glasses.
A Here they are.
B Oh, thank you.

Point to and read each line. Students repeat. Bring two volunteers to the front of the classroom to role-play the conversation as if they are brothers and sisters at home on a Saturday morning. Students then form pairs and role-play the conversation in the same way. They then change roles and role-play the conversation again.

2. Match the Halves.

Divide the class into pairs. Students in each pair write each line of the target conversation on a separate piece of paper and then cut the sentences into halves. Pairs shuffle the pieces of paper and place them facedown. Say Go! Pairs try to be the first to turn over the pieces of paper, match each half of the sentences, and put the complete sentences in the correct order. The first pair to do so raises their hands and says the conversation they have put together. If it is correct, they come to the front of the classroom and role-play the conversation for the rest of the class. If it is not correct, all pairs continue to work until one pair has put together the correct conversation. Students then change partners and do the activity again.

3. Combine the Conversations.

Combine the Units 1 and 2 conversations with the target conversation on the board in the following way:

- A Smells good. What's for breakfast?
B We're having bread, eggs, and juice.
A Let me help you, Dad.
B Thanks. Be careful. It's hot.
A No problem. What kind of juice do you want?
B Apple juice, please.

Point to and read each line. Students repeat. Bring two volunteers to the front of the classroom to role-play the conversation as if they are father and son cooking breakfast at home on a Saturday morning. Students then form pairs and role-play the conversation in the same way. They then change roles and role-play the conversation again.

4. Is It Far?

Write the library, New York, your house, the drugstore on the board. Then write Excuse me. I'm looking for _____ . Is it far? Yes, it is./No, it isn't. No, not really. below the list of words. Divide the class into pairs, and have each pair practice this part of the conversation with their partner, substituting each of the destinations listed on the board.

5. Tic-Tac-Toe: Conversation.

Prepare 3×3 grids with one line of the conversation written in each square. Divide the class into pairs. Two pairs play with each other. Give each group of pairs one of the 3×3 grids. Pairs take turns reading one of the conversation lines, then saying the next line of that conversation. If they are correct, the pair places a marker of their own color on that square of the grid. The first pair to place three markers in a straight row (horizontal, vertical, or diagonal) wins the game.

6. Which Line Doesn't Belong?

Write each line of four to five different conversations on a piece of paper, then copy it. Cut up both sheets to make two identical sets of strips of paper, each with one line of a conversation on it. Divide the class into Teams A and B. A volunteer from each team comes to the front of the classroom. Give each volunteer a set of identical strips of paper that includes a complete conversation plus one strip from a different conversation. For example: Ah-choo! Bless you! Thanks! What's your first name? Say Go! The volunteers look at their pieces of paper and place the line of conversation that doesn't belong on the board tray. The first volunteer to place the correct piece of paper on the board tray wins a point for his/her team. The team wins another point for each line of the conversation the members of the team can correctly say. Continue until each student has had a turn. The team with the most points at the end wins.

7. Add On the Next Word.

Divide the class into groups of four to five. Each group stands in a circle. A student in each circle begins by saying the first word of the target conversation. The next student in the circle repeats the first word and then adds the next word. The next student continues in the same manner saying the first two words and adding the next word. Groups continue around the circle until they have said entire conversation twice.

8. Missing Words.

Divide the class into Groups A and B. Write the target conversation on the board. Elicit alternate lines from Groups A and B. Erase two to three key words from each line. Groups then change roles and say alternate lines of the conversation, trying to fill in the missing words. Continue in the same way, erasing more words from the conversation each time, until students can say the conversation from memory.

9. Which Conversation?

Divide the class into groups of three to four. Students in each group work together to write each line of the Units 8–9 target conversations on a separate piece of paper. Groups shuffle the papers and place them facedown. Say Go! Groups try to be the first to turn over the cards, divide them into the two conversations, and then put them in the correct order. The first group to do so says the two conversations they have put together. If they are correct, they come to the front of the classroom and role-play one of the conversations. If they are not correct, all groups continue to work until one group has put together the correct conversations. Students then change groups and do the activity again.

10. Substitution.

Write rice, sandwich, and birthday card on the board, and divide the class into pairs. Each pair practices the conversation using the two new items. For example:

A Wow! What a cool sandwich!

B Thanks. I made it myself.

A You're kidding.

B No, it's true. I made it.

A Was it hard?

B No, it was easy. I'll show you.

A Great! What do we need?

B Bread, tomatoes, and bean sprouts. Let's get some.

11. Toss the Ball.

Toss a ball to a student and say the first line of the conversation. That student responds with the second line of the conversation, then tosses the ball to another student who says the third line of the conversation, and so on around the class. Students continue until everyone has said a line of the conversation.

A Wow! Did you see all the planets and stars?

B Yeah! That was a great show.

A Ms Apple, can we go to the snack bar?.

B Can we go to the gift shop?

C No, kids. We don't have time. etc.

12. Who Was That?

Bring a student (S1) to the front of the classroom and have him/her face the board. Ask another student (S2) to say the first line of the conversation. S1 tries to identify S2 and say the second line of the conversation. If S1 identifies S2, they finish the conversation together. If S1 does not identify S2, he/she tries again. If S1 still cannot identify S2, he/she turns around to face the class, and S1 and S2 say the conversation from the beginning. Encourage S2 to change his/her voice to make the activity more challenging. Choose another pair of volunteers, and continue the activity in the same way until most students have had a turn.

13. True or False?

Say four to five statements about the Student Book conversation (see Suggested Sentences below). Students say True if the statement is true, and False if it is not. If the sentence is false, choose a volunteer to make it true. For example: say Annie and Ted go to school by bicycle. A volunteer corrects the statement by saying Annie and Ted go to school by bus.

14. Unscramble.

Write the conversation on the board in scrambled order. Students try to be the first to unscramble and write down the conversation, then raise their hands. The first two students to do so raise their hands and read alternate lines of the conversation.

15. Set the Timer.

Students stand in a circle. Set a timer for two minutes. Toss a ball to a student and say the first line of the conversation. The student responds with the second line of the conversation then tosses the ball to another student who says the third line of the conversation, and so on around the circle. Students toss the ball and say the conversation quickly so that they are not holding the ball when the timer rings. The student holding the ball when the timer rings says the entire conversation with the student who tossed him/her the ball. Prompt if necessary. Then set the timer to one minute and do the activity again. Students should say the conversation lines correctly even though they are speaking quickly.

Games and activities for vocabulary practice

16. Sentences.

Write the following five sentences on the board (quickly review meaning if necessary):

I'm cooking breakfast.

I cooked breakfast.

I didn't cook breakfast.

When do you cook breakfast?

When does he cook breakfast?

Point to and read each sentence (and question). Students repeat. Then divide the class into groups of four to six. Using the target vocabulary and the above sentences as guides, each student writes two new sentences, each on a separate piece of paper. Students place their sentences face-down in the middle of their group. A student in each group (S1) begins by picking up a sentence from the middle of the group. If it is a statement, he/she reads the sentence and pantomimes it. If it is a question, he/she reads it to the student on his/her left (S2), and S2 answers. Groups continue in the same way, with students in each group taking turns picking up the sentences, for five to seven minutes.

17. Cut and Paste.

Write the two parts of the target activities on two separate pieces of paper for each activity (for example: drink/soda pop, take/pictures). Then give each student one of the halves. Students walk around the classroom, looking for the other half of their activity. Once they find a student with the other half, the two students work together to write two different sentences using their verb phrase. For example: I'm drinking soda pop. /She can take pictures. Pairs then take turns reading their sentences to the class.

18. Descriptions.

Divide the class into Teams A and B. Then describe a target action and have students guess the phrase (see Suggested Descriptions below). For example: Say You do this when your clothes are dirty.

Students say do the laundry. The first student to guess the phrase wins a point for his/her team. Do the same with the remaining target actions. The team with the most points at the end wins.

Suggested Descriptions:

make the bed: You do this after you get up in the morning.

feed the pets: When your dog is hungry, what do you do?

sweep the floor: When there's a mess on the floor, what do you do?

take out the garbage: You do this when your trash can is full.

hang up the clothes: After you get home from school and change your clothes, you do this.

put away the groceries: When you get home from the supermarket, you do this.

set the table: Before you eat dinner, you have to do this.

19. Spin and Act.

Make a spinner board as follows: cut a piece of cardboard, approximately eight inches by eight inches (20 cm by 20 cm). Divide the board into eight equal pie-shaped sections and write a different target vocabulary phrase in each section. Cut out a cardboard arrow and fasten it to the center of the spinner board with a pin or brad.

Divide the class into Teams A and B. A student on Team A (S1) begins by spinning the arrow and pantomiming the action the arrow falls on for his/her teammates. (Make sure only the student doing the pantomime can see the board.) His/Her teammates name the actions, saying You're (mailing a letter). If the team names the action correctly, that team receives a point. If they do not correctly identify the action within 30 seconds, Team B can "steal," and identify the action. If they identify it correctly, they win a point. A student on Team B then takes a turn spinning the arrow and pantomiming. Continue in the same way until all students have taken a turn. The team with the most points at the end wins.

20. Survey.

Students create a survey on a sheet of paper by writing Name and Do you like _____? in a row at the top of the paper. Students then go around the classroom and ask their classmates Do you like (tacos)? Students respond Yes, I like (tacos) or No, I don't like (tacos). I like (french fries). Students record the answers they hear on their surveys. Continue until all students have asked at least six other students the question. Students sit down. Then ask students questions about the survey. For example: Ask Does Bill like burritos? Students who know this information respond either Yes, he does. or No, he doesn't. He likes (salad).

21. When Do You...?

Write When do you go skiing? I go skiing in the winter. on the board. Point to and read each sentence. Students repeat. Then divide the class into groups of three to four. Students in each group take turns. Using the target vocabulary they ask each other When do you (play in the leaves)? Groups ask and answer questions for four to five minutes.

22. Mobiles.

Divide the class into groups of four to six and have each group create a mobile of the target marine animals. Two groups then join together and tell each other about their mobiles, saying, for example, This is a whale. It's gray and it's big. That's an eel. It's ugly and long. Display the mobiles around the classroom for future reference.

23. Comparisons.

Say five to six comparative statements about the target animals (see Suggested Sentences below). Students say True if the statement is true, and False if it is not. If the sentence is false, choose a volunteer to make it true. For example, say The turtle is faster than the cheetah. A volunteer makes the sentence correct by saying either The turtle is slower than the cheetah or The cheetah is faster than the turtle.

Suggested Sentences: The giraffe is taller than the chimpanzee. The snake is fatter than the elephant. The cheetah is thinner than the elephant. The snake is shorter than the cheetah. The turtle is faster than the cheetah. The turtle is taller than the giraffe.

24. Postcards.

Students make a postcard of a place where they spent (or would like to have spent) their vacation, making sure that people on the postcard are engaged in a variety of activities that students can name in English. They also write several sentences on the back of the postcard about what they did on vacation. Then divide the class into pairs and have each student tell his/her partner about his/her postcard. Display the postcards around the classroom for future reference.

OPTION Students address their postcards to themselves and send them to their homes. When the postcard arrives, students tell their families about the postcard.

25. What Do You Like to Do?

Write What do you like to do? on the board. Point to the sentence and have students read it. Then divide the class into pairs. Students in each pair ask their partner What do you like to do? (students can take notes if necessary to remember what their partner says). Then each pair joins with another pair and each student tells the others about what his/her partner likes to do.

OPTION Do the activity as above, having students draw pictures to illustrate their partner's likes.

26. The Planets.

Say five to six descriptive sentences about the planets, and have students name each planet you describe (see Suggested Sentences below). Students can use their Student Books for reference if necessary.

Suggested Sentences: We live on this planet. It is the biggest planet. It is the smallest planet. This planet is red. This planet is bigger than Saturn. The name of this planet begins with M.

27. Descriptions.

Say five to six descriptive sentences about the target occupations, and have students name each occupation you describe (see Suggested Sentences below). Students can use their Student Books for reference if necessary.

Suggested Sentences: This person helps cats and dogs. This person likes practicing the piano. This person works in a hospital. This person paints pictures. This person builds department stores. This person uses computers.

28. Draw the Picture.

Write the names of the target vocabulary on pieces of paper, so that there is one for every student. Give out the pieces of paper. Students draw the item. When they have finished they hold it up and other students say what it is.

29. Put the Lines in Order.

Divide the class into groups of seven. Students in each group work together to write each line of the target conversation on a separate piece of paper. When they are finished, groups shuffle the pieces of paper and place them facedown. Say Go! Groups try to be the first to turn over the pieces of paper and put them in the correct order. The first group to do so raises their hands and says the conversation they have put together. If it is correct, they come to the front of the classroom and role-play the conversation for the rest of the class. If it is not correct, all groups continue to work until one group has put together the correct conversation.

30. The Three Directors.

Divide the class into groups (one group for each speaker in the conversation). A volunteer "director" from each group stands in front of their group. Each director reads his/her line(s) of the conversation from the Student Book, and after each line motions to his/her "actors" to perform. His/Her group acts out the line, using the proper intonation and body language. Groups continue in this way until they have acted out the entire conversation. Groups then change roles, and new volunteers take on the "director" roles. Continue until each group has taken on each role.

Games and Activities for Grammar Practice

31. Ask Questions.

Write the target vocabulary onto separate pieces of paper – enough for all the class. Give one to each student. Turn away and have them all pantomime. Say Stop. Turn around and ask a volunteer (S1) Did you climb a mountain? Then point to S1 and ask another volunteer (S2) Did (he) climb a mountain? Continue, asking different students each time, until most students have answered a question.

32. Drill.

Say drink. Students say its simple past form, drank. Do the same with the remaining target verbs. Then do the activity again, having a contest to see who can first correctly say and spell the simple past tense.

33. Add-On.

Ask students to stand up at their desks and pantomime a Unit 2 or 3 target action. Then have them stop. Ask a volunteer (S1) What did you do? S1 answers I (set the table). Then S1 turns to the student on his/her right (S2) and asks What did you do? S2 says I (took out the garbage). S2 then asks S3 the question in the same way, and S3 asks S2 about S1, What did (he) do? S2 says (He) (set the table). Continue until all students have asked and answered the question.

34. Verb Tense Chart.

Divide the class into pairs and write the chart below on the board:

	have lunch	buy a donut	take a taxi	see a movie
Past	She had lunch.
Present	She's having lunch.
Future	She's going to have lunch.

Each pair copies the chart onto a piece of paper and completes it, using the example sentences as guides.

35. Interview.

Each student writes down three food items that they are planning to eat within the next 24 hours. They then circulate around the classroom with their pieces of paper and ask their classmates What are you going to have? They write their classmates' responses down. After five to seven minutes, have students return to their seats. Point to a student and ask What's (Mary) going to have? Students who talked to (Mary) say (She's) going to have (some curry), (a burger), and (soda pop). Continue asking the question in the same way for three to four minutes.

36. Talking.

Divide the class into pairs and give them three to four minutes to talk with their partners about their plans for the upcoming year (students can take notes if necessary to remember what their partners say). Then each pair joins with another pair and each student tells the others about his/her partner's plans.

OPTION Do the activity as above, also having students draw pictures to illustrate their partner's plans.

37. Real-Life Comparisons.

Ask two volunteers to stand up at their desks. Seated students make tall/short comparisons about the two volunteers. Then hold up a book and a pencil and have students make big/small comparisons about the two items. Ask two volunteers to say their birthdays, then have students make old/young comparisons about the two volunteers. Ask two students to go to the back of the classroom and then run to the front. Seated students make fast/slow comparisons about the two volunteers.

38. Find the animal.

Divide the class into groups of five. In each group one student draws one of the following the tallest, fattest, thinnest, fastest, and slowest animal they know. Ask Which animal is the slowest? Call on one group to say The (turtle) is the slowest. If some groups have different answers, discuss and then come to a consensus as a class as to which animal is the slowest. Do the same with tallest, shortest, fattest, thinnest, and fastest.

39. Memory Chain.

A student (S1) makes a statement using the pattern. For example: I want a rabbit. The student sitting next to or behind him/her (S2) says S1's name, repeats his/her statement, and then adds his/her own statement. For example: (Ken), you want a rabbit. I want a lizard. The student sitting next to or behind S2 (S3) then repeats S1 and S2's statements, and adds his/her own. Students continue in the same way until someone is unable to repeat all the previous statements. The activity then begins again starting with this student.

40. Gerund Drill.

Say collect. Students say its gerund form, collecting. Do the same with the remaining target verbs. Then write the following sentences on the board:

- 1 I like singing. I don't like cycling.
- 2 He likes making videos. He doesn't like painting.
- 3 They like playing badminton. They don't like snorkeling.
- 4 She likes going sailing. She doesn't like taking naps.
- 5 You like singing. You don't like in-line skating.

Divide the class into pairs and have students in each pair work together to make each pair of sentences into one sentence using but. Check answers by having pairs take turns reading their sentences to the class.

41. Substitution.

Write play Ping-Pong, go fishing, and drink soda pop on the board. Then write I want to play Ping-Pong. Let me play. on the board. Point to and read each word. Students repeat. Then divide the class into groups of three to four, and have them practice substituting the activities on the board into the target pattern (making sure to practice with different pronouns, too). After four to five minutes, each group writes down four of the target patterns that they made and then reads them to the class.

42. Match Why and Because.

Write six Why questions on the left side of the board, and six corresponding Because sentences on the right side of the board (see Suggested Sentences below). Point to each sentence and have students read it. Clarify word meaning if necessary. Then divide the class into pairs. Each pair matches each Why question with the corresponding Because sentence and writes the matching question and answer on a piece of paper. When students have completed the task, have pairs take turns reading their questions and answers.

Suggested Sentences:

- Why is she happy? Because she won a prize.*
Why do you want to have lunch? Because I'm hungry.
Why is he buying tickets? Because he wants to see a movie.
Why do you want to be an artist? Because I like painting.
Why is she going to take a nap? Because she's tired.

43. Pass the Message

Students work seated in rows. The first student in each row (S1) thinks of a statement using the pattern (for example: I have some shampoo), and whispers it to the second student in the row (S2). S2 whispers the statement to the third student in the row, S3. S3 then whispers the statement to S4, and so on down the row. When the statement reaches the last student in the row, he/she says it aloud. If it matches S1's original statement, the row wins a point. If it does not match S1's original statement, the row does not win a point. Students in each row then move forward one seat and do the activity again. Continue until all students have had a turn sitting in the first seat of the row.

VARIATION Play as above, but have the last student ask a question using the question form of the statement. For example: S1: I want a rabbit. Last student: (S1's name), do you want a rabbit?

Games and Activities for Phonics Practice

44. Bingo!

Students draw a bingo grid of 12 squares and write one of the target blends into each square. Say each of the sounds in random order. The first student to have all the words is the winner. Ask him/her to repeat the sounds to check they have it right.

45. Sort It Out.

Write ten to twelve -ed words with /t/ and /d/ sounds in a column on the board (see Suggested Words below). Then have students divide a piece of paper into two columns and label one column baked and the other column called. Say one of the words listed on the board. Students repeat then write the word on their papers in the column that corresponds to the word's -ed sound. Continue in the same way with the remaining words on the board. Check answers by saying each word again and having a volunteer say the column he/she wrote it in.

Suggested Words: cooked, listened, kissed, washed, played, climbed, walked, studied, talked, cleaned, brushed, chopped

Answers:

baked: chopped, kissed, washed, talked, walked, cooked, brushed called: cleaned, played, climbed, studied, listened

46. What's Different?

Say three words, two with the same -ed sound and one with a different -ed sound (see Suggested Words below). Students say the word with the different -ed sound. Do the same with five to six different sets of words.

Suggested Words: roasted, washed, waited; cleaned, played, baked; needed, chopped, folded; kissed, talked, invited; planted, cooked, painted; brushed, called, climbed.

47. Dictation.

Students write the numbers 1–6 on a piece of paper. Say bottle. Using their Student Books for reference if necessary, students write bottle next to Number 1 on their papers. Do the same with the remaining target phonics words. Check answers by saying Number 1 and having a volunteer say and spell the word he/she wrote. Do the same for numbers 2–6.

48. Find the -er Words.

Divide the class into pairs and write the following three sentences on the board:

What's mother going to have?

She's going to have lobster with butter.

Will your brother Peter bring the tiger to dinner?

Students in each pair work together to write the three sentences on a piece of paper, underline the -er words, then list the underlined words below the sentences.

49. Say the Word and a Sentence.

Write the target words from page 28 of the Student's Book on separate pieces of paper (fall, talk, laundry, saucer, crawl, draw, small, claw, wall, chalk, walk) Make one set for each group. Divide the class into groups of four to five and give each group a set of words. Groups shuffle their words and place them facedown in the middle of the group. A student in each group (S1) begins by turning over a word and naming it. The student on his/her right (S2) repeats the word and uses it in a sentence. He/She then turns over another word and names it. Groups continue in the same way with the remaining cards.

50. Make the Shapes.

Brainstorm with students to invent body stances to represent ar and or. For example: stand with your feet apart and arms straight up to represent ar, and make a circle with your arms to represent or. Students stand and take the appropriate stances as you slowly say a series of sentences that include both ar and or words (see Suggested Sentences below). Any student who takes the wrong stance sits down. After several sentences, have students all stand and try again.

Suggested Sentences: The corn is in the yard at the farm. Put the corn in the barn before the storm. Use a fork to move the corn to the barn.

51. Do You Hear It?

Read the following paragraph aloud. Students raise their hands when they hear a word that contains the /aʊ/ sound. Read the paragraph several times, until students have identified each word with the /aʊ/ sound. Then read it again, sentence by sentence, slowly. At the end of each sentence, volunteers come to the board and write the /aʊ/ words they heard in the sentence. Help with spelling as necessary.

The clown jumped up and down. She looked around on the ground. Her mouth was red. Her voice was loud. The clown began to shout to the crowd. "Where is my mouse, my small brown mouse? It must be found. I have my cow. I have my plow. I want my small brown mouse!"

52. Continuous Story.

Divide the class into groups of three to four. A student in each group (S1) begins by writing a sentence that includes two oo words at the top of a piece of paper. S1 then passes the paper to another student in the group (S2). S2 writes a sentence under the first that includes one of the oo words from the first sentence, and one new oo word. Groups continue in this way, with each student writing a sentence on the paper and passing it on until the writer of the original sentence receives the paper again. Students then take turns reading their sentences out loud. For example:

S1 Look at the moon.

S2 The moon is bigger than the broom.

S3 She is sweeping the room with the broom.

S4 There is a cook in the room.

53. Complete the Sentences.

Divide the class into groups of three to four, and write the following sentences on the board:

- 1 Does the c l _ _ k like to swim?
- 2 The b _ _ d likes singing.
- 3 My sh _ _ t is green.
- 4 The money is in my p _ _ se.
- 5 Did you eat c _ _ ry?

Students in each group work together to complete the sentences. Groups then take turns standing up and reading a sentence to the class.

54. Volume Control.

With the students, invent arm motions to indicate volume. For example, holding your hands in front of you with palms facing the floor, pressing down, could indicate decreasing volume, while turning your palms upwards and pushing up could indicate increasing volume. Point to a volunteer and have him/her say a sentence that includes an /ɔɪ/ word. The rest of the class repeats the /ɔɪ/ word, raising or lowering the volume of their voices as you "conduct" them with your hand motions. Continue until most students have taken a turn saying a sentence.

55. Hold It Up!

Each student writes three consonant blends, each blend on a separate piece of paper. Say a word that contains one of the blends. Students repeat the word and hold up the paper with the correct blend spelling. If a student holds up the wrong blend, that student is "out". Continue with six to eight different words. The students remaining "in" at the end of the game are the winners.

56. Duck, Duck, Goose.

On the board, write two lists of words with different initial or vowel sounds. For example: b/p or short a/short e. Designate one list as List A, and the other as List B. Students sit in a circle. A volunteer walks around the circle, tapping each student on the head and saying a word from either List A or List B. If the word is from List A, the seated student stays seated. If, however, the volunteer taps a student's head and says a word from List B, that student (S1) quickly stands up and tries to tap the volunteer on the shoulder before the volunteer has run all the way around the circle and sat down in the S1's spot. If the volunteer is tapped on the shoulder, he/she remains the volunteer. If he/she sits down before being tapped on the shoulder, S1 becomes the new volunteer. Continue in the same way for five to seven minutes.

57. How Many Sentences Can you Make?

Write the sentences from Phonics Time Activity C in the Student Books on the board. Circle two words in each sentence. Divide the class into groups of four to six. Assign each group one of the sentences and set a time limit (for example: five to seven minutes). Each group writes as many different sentences as they can by replacing the circled words. Then groups take turns reading their sentences to the class.

58. Pass the Sounds.

Divide the class into three groups, and have each group stand in a line. Whisper a word that has a target sound to the last student in each line. This student whispers the word to the student standing in front of him/her, who whispers the word to the student standing in front of him/her, and so on down the line. When it reaches S1, he/she says the word and its target sound out loud. If he/she is correct, he/she wins a point for his/her team. If he/she is not correct, his/her teammates correct him/her. The last student in each line then goes to the front of the line. Continue doing the activity in the same way until all students have had a turn at the front of the line. The team with the most points at the end wins.

Games for Review Sections

59. Puppets.

Students draw Max on one sheet of paper and Digger on another. They cut out these characters, and then attach a stick, ruler, or pencil to the back of each cut-out to make puppets. Each student then performs the entire story for the class using these puppets. Keep these puppets so that they can be used in role-plays in later Review Units or whenever these characters appear in the Student Book.

60. Project.

For one week, have students keep a list of any of the Units 1–3 target Word Time actions they do. At the end of the week, have them share their lists in class.

61. Make a New Story.

Each student divides a piece of paper into six equal parts and comes up with his/her own version of the story by drawing original scenes and new characters. Students then take turns standing up and describing their story to the rest of the class.

62. Talking.

Divide the class into pairs and give students three to four minutes to talk with their partners about their plans for the upcoming weekend (students can take notes if necessary to remember what their partners say). Then each pair joins with another pair and each student tells the others about his/her partner's plans.

OPTION Do the activity as above, and have students draw pictures to illustrate their partner's plans.

63. Living Story.

Divide the class into groups of six and give each group a copy of Student Book page 41. Students in each group cut out the scenes, so that they have six different cards. Students in each group then shuffle the cards and place them facedown. Say Go! Each student picks up one of the cards, then they all stand up and arrange themselves in the order of the story. Each student then reads the scene that he/she is holding.

64. Feet Writing.

Each student writes the letters of the alphabet on a very large sheet of paper and then puts the paper on the floor. Say a Units 7–9 target phonics word. Students repeat the word, then “spell” it with their feet, walking to each letter that makes up the word and naming each letter as they stand on it. Continue in the same way with seven to eight different words.

65. Retell the Story.

Students take turns retelling the story in their own words.

66. Occupations.

Invite students’ parents or other members of the community to class to tell students about the occupations they have. Students take notes. Help students with English spelling if necessary. Then ask students questions about the people they have heard speak. For example: Why does Mr. Lin like being a banker?

Games for Cross-curricular sections

67. Around the World.

Two volunteers stand. Say an injury, for example, Strained a muscle. The first student of the pair to correctly name the first aid treatment, Ice pack, continues with the next student. Play another round saying a first aid treatment to which students respond with a corresponding injury.

68. Equation Race.

Divide the class into small groups of four or five students. Assign each group a portion of the board. Say any number. Groups race to think of as many multiplication and division problems with that answer as they can in a minute’s time. They write the equations on the board. Ask groups to read each of their equations aloud for the class. Award each group one point for each correct equation. The group with the most points wins.

69. Hit the Board

Divide the class into two teams. Ask a student from each team to come to the front. Say any one of the animals that you had written on the board in the warm-up activity. The first student to hit the word on the board and identify the animal as a herbivore, carnivore or omnivore wins a point for his / her team.

70. I Spy

Choose a map without letting students know which one you have chosen. Say I spy a an apartment building. There’s a park north of the apartment building There’s a... The first student to correctly identify the corresponding map and say Here’s the map. There’s the apartment building and the park north of the apartment building., takes on the role of the teacher and continues the activity.
